MOSCOW (AP)—A Russian cosmonaut tumbled around like an acrobat today in the spacious cabin of the orbiting space laboratory Salute in a demonstration of weightlessness for Soviet television viewers.

The mission commander, Lt. Col. Georgy Dobrovolsky, ran through his acrobatic routine during a television communications session with ground controllers this morning. Excerpts of the film were later broadcast nationwide. The film first showed civilian flight engineer Vladislav Volkov working at the control panel of the space laboratory. He then turned around and asked ground controllers: "Do you see what he's doing?"

Then Dobrovolsky emerged from a narrow corridor between the space station's work compartments. He was floating on his back and pumping his legs as if he was riding a bicycle.

"Is the space suit comfortable?" the ground controller asked.

"Yes, I'd like to say I'm very comfortable in this space suit," Dobrovolsky replied. "Much better than without it. It's a very successful design and please tell the designers we're very happy with it."

The television commentator then noted that the cosmonauts were using a new type of space suit "which is necessary for keeping the muscular system in a normal state." The commentator gave no additional information on the construction of the suit.

Reds Launch Savage Cambodian Assault

PHNOM PENH (AP) — A Communist division made new assaults today on U.S.-trained Cambodian forces guarding eastern approaches to Phnom Penh. The Cambodian soldiers said it was the most intense fighting they had ever encountered.

Mortar, cannon and rocket shells slammed into Cambodian bunkers in the Vihear Suor marshes east of Phnom Penh. Hand-to-hand fighting raged Tuesday afternoon at Prey Thom, 12 miles northeast of the capital.

Lt. Col. Am Rong, chief spokesman for the Cambodian command, claimed 100 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed in the fighting Tuesday. The Cambodian command reported earlier that 80 government troops were killed or wounded in the four-hour battle at Prey Thom.

Cambodian air force planes were driven back by heavy anti-aircraft fire. Cambodian artillerymen were forced to hold their fire during much of the fighting because of their own troops were so close to the enemy.

Hard fighting has been underway since May 28 for control of the Vihear Suor marshes, a wild and desolate region east of the Mekong River that is the key to Phnom Penh's eastern defenses and an important way station on the North Vietnamese supply route.

The attacking forces are reported to be from the enemy's veteran 9th Division, which earlier this year was kept close to its base in the Chup rubber plantation 50 miles northeast of Phnom Penh by sweeping South Vietnamese forces. When the South Vietnamese pulled back to block infiltration into their own territory northwest of Saigon, this freed the 9th Division to move south toward Phnom Penh.

The Cambodian command has put its best forces into the battle for the marshes, the Khmer Kampuchea Krom, or ethnic Cambodians from South Vietnam who were trained there by the U.S. Special Forces.

Elsewhere in Indochina, South Vietnamese forces reported 70 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed in a battle 45 miles southwest of Saigon. Two South Vietnamese soldiers were reported killed, and 16 soldiers and four civilians were reported wounded.

In the central highlands of South Vietnam, about 2,500 South Vietnamese infantrymen, rangers and armored cavalrymen launched a sweep operation about 25 miles south of Pleiku, in a region of frequent enemy attacks. Fifteen North Vietnamese were reported killed in the first day of the drive, along with four South Vietnamese killed and two wounded.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Defense Secretary Clark Clifford says American prisoners of war could be home within a month if the United States would set a Dec. 31 deadline on its military involvement in Indochina.

In addition, he said Tuesday, "I have reason to believe the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong would agree... to refrain from attacks that would threaten U.S. personnel during the withdrawal."

Clifford would not specify his sources, saying only the information was drawn from private discussions with "both Americans and non-Americans."

The thrust of Clifford's statement was echoed somewhat by Rep. Robert L. Leggett, who said Viet Cong negotiators in Paris had promised him that if a withdrawal date were set, American prisoners would be freed "before that date."

Leggett, D-Calif., said the North Vietnamese, however, had expressed to him no change from their formal position that a deadline for total pullout would be "discussion" of prisoner release.

Leggett said he would urge President Nixon to have U.S. negotiators get confirmation of the position change, and then set the date. He recommended Christmas.

A State Department spokesman told newsmen Hanoi and the Viet Cong had denied last month similar report on a shift in their positions. At the White House, presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler commented: "Anything they or the other side has to say they could say directly to us."

Ziegler said Nixon would consider any plan for complete withdrawal by Dec. 31 as preposterous and unacceptable, regardless of the prisoners issue. Asked about withdrawal nine months hence, Ziegler replied: (Continued on Page 2)

Blood Needs Stressed By Red Cross

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit Circleville on Friday, June 11, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Community United Methodist Church.

Red Cross officials warned that during the summer months an increase in injuries and accidents from outdoor activities can be expected, especially among children. This puts a heavier demand on blood bank reserves when many regular donors are on vacation. All eligible donors are urged to participate at this visit to help meet the quota of 125 pints and maintain the county's unlimited blood coverage.

All donors except those donating during the May visit are eligible to participate.

Two local residents have made requests for blood donations during the Friday visit of the Bloodmobile. Mrs. Gary Dean of 1003 Lynwood Ave., was a recent recipient of blood through the Red Cross Program and would appreciate anyone giving in her name.

The second request comes from Mrs. William M. Andrews, 220 E. Franklin St. Her husband is scheduled to undergo major surgery today in Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus. Surgeons have advised Mrs. Andrews that the operation will require a large amount of blood. She asks that area residents make their donations Friday in her husband's name.

Red Cross officials suggest that donors make an appointment to give. Call Red Cross, 474-5736.

Twisters Hit Gulf Coast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wet weather dominated much of the nation early today in the wake of a series of tornadoes which swirled through the western Gulf Coast region Tuesday, causing minor damage but no injuries.

One funnel cloud knocked over several mobile homes north of Lubbock, Tex. Other twisters were sighted near Childress, Tex., Monroe, La., and Baldwin, Miss.

Tornadoes also touched down briefly near Aberdeen, S.D., and Altus, Okla.

Rain drenched portions of the East late Tuesday as Warwick, R.I., received 1½ inches in a two-hour span. An inch of rain also deluged Memphis, Tenn., during the night.

In contrast, the Great Lakes region remained fair, dry and cool as scattered frost appeared in sections of Upper Michigan.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 35 at Marquette, Mich., to 84 at Needles, Calif.

Mysterious Plague Ravages Wildlife In Central Florida

LAKE APOPKA, Fla. (AP) — A mysterious wildlife plague is spreading through some of central Florida's fresh waters, killing thousands of fish and dozens of birds. Sixteen alligators also have died.

For the first time Tuesday, game wardens reported finding the bodies of egrets, crows and seagulls as well as extensive shad and catfish kills.

Officials said the path of wildlife destruction which began a month ago was edging northward from Lake Apopka through about seven miles of algae-choked canals to Lake Dora.

Game and Fresh Water Fish Commissioner Dr. Earle Frye said he is sending a team of biologists to Lake Apopka—which straddles the Lake-Orange County line—for intensive emergency studies.

"We're concerned the die-off has now extended to other species of wildlife," said Frye.

"We've considered closing the lake to fishing and are prepared to do so if your monitoring system reveals any danger to human welfare."

At first biologists thought the die-off was attributable to alligators eating dead and rotting fish. Then a DDT theory was pursued but scientists found more pesticide in live and apparently healthy gators than in the dead ones.

A commission study revealed a DDT count in live gators of 10 times the safety level recommended by the Food and Drug Administration.

A tolerable level of DDT was found in dead fish and gator samples.

Memorial Services Held For Yuba City Victims

YUBA CITY, Calif. (AP) — "They were workers, they were not bums," a skid row mission superintendent said of the 25 drifters found stabbed and hacked to death when buried in orchard graves just outside of town.

"I knew quite a few of those men," the Rev. C. W. Renwick added at a half-hour memorial service for the mass murder victims Tuesday at sundown. "They came into our mission to shave, shower and put on clean clothes to get to work."

"They would resent being called bums. They weren't discouraged and they loved life."

About 200 residents of this agricultural community and adjacent Marysville sat on the wooden bleachers of the high school football field for the services sponsored by the cities' ministerial associations.

The field is about a half-mile from the home of Juan V. Corona, a 37-year-old farm labor contractor who has pleaded innocent to charges of slaying 10 of the men.

"One of the lessons we can learn is we can do more for those who are left behind in this kind of situation," the Rev. Mr. Renwick said of the dozens of other transients and migrant field workers.

His thoughts were echoed by the Rev. Howard Alexander, pastor of Marysville's First Baptist Church: "We are our brother's keeper. We should be more aware and more concerned for these men who pass through our community."

"This is evidenced by the size of the gathering here," he told the 200 Yuba City and Marysville have a total of about 25,000 residents.

"Most of these men are faceless and nameless to us here," he said. "But they contributed to the community's wealth. They were not guests in your home or at your table, but they are guests just the same."

"We do not come here this evening to lash ourselves for what has happened," said the Rev. Edgar Nelson, pastor of First United Methodist church of Marysville, "but we are embarrassed. We share in the guilt."

Hargus Lake Project Stalled

An injunction was granted Tuesday to halt work temporarily on the A. W. Marion Memorial Lake park construction by Common Pleas Court Judge William Ammer.

The action was brought against the state facility and governing departments by several adjoining landowners to stop the construction of a connecting road between the two parking areas.

Apparently the state has been led to study alternate project for the partially started road. Some talk centered on additional parking sites or a short traffic circle extending a distance along the picnic area.

Park Manager Ross Seymour was in Columbus today at the Ohio Parks and Recreation Department to discuss the recent difficulties with the division chief. He was unavailable to confirm any reports as to the scope of the project.

The temporary restraining order was signed by the judge to stop any further digging in the area until a hearing could be set on the matter. A date for the hearing was approved by the court for Tuesday, June 22, at 10 a.m. in the Common Pleas Courtroom. The court will decide on evidence presented whether the construction will be allowed to continue without harassment or if the landowners will be awarded a permanent restraining order against the road project.

U.S. Officer Said AWOL In Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — A young West Point graduate ordered to Vietnam is missing from his unit in Germany, the Army says, and may have fled to Sweden.

The Army said 1st Lt. John R. Vequist, 24, of Pittsburg, Kan., has been absent without leave since May 20. Pentagon sources said the Army believes he may be with his wife in Sweden where an estimated 245 other American servicemen have sought refuge.

Vequist, who graduated in 1969 near the top of his West Point class, automatically will be classified as a deserter if he is missing more than 30 days.

Army spokesmen said they could not recall a case involving the desertion of a West Point graduate since the beginning of the Vietnam war.

A few years ago another West Point officer, also under orders for Vietnam, went AWOL from his post in the United States but turned himself in a few days later.

Vequist's father said in a telephone interview from his Pittsburg, Kan., home he was surprised to be notified about five days ago by the Army of his son's disappearance.

"Until I understand more about it, I'd rather not comment," said the father, David G. Vequist.

When he dropped from sight, Vequist was assigned to headquarters, 94th Artillery at Kaiserslautern, Germany. The Army said he received orders March 30 directing him "to depart for Vietnam not later than October 31."

A spokesman said the Army had no information to indicate that Vequist was opposed to the Vietnam war.

Following graduation from West Point where he finished 232 out of a class of 800, Vequist attended the Army Air Defense School at Ft. Bliss, Tex. He went to Germany in December 1969.

UC Trustees Raise Fees, Expect Aid

CINCINNATI (AP) — General fee increases, additional enrollment and an anticipated increase in state aid were approved by the University of Cincinnati Board of Trustees to finance its highest ever $120 million budget for 1971-72 beginning July 1.

Retiring President Walter Langsam told the board Tuesday that the budget was contingent upon a state appropriation to UC of nearly $3 million as recommended by Ohio Governor John J. Gilligan.

Dual Murder Is Probed In Chillicothe

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—The beating deaths of two women whose bodies were found late Tuesday in the West Side home where one of them lived was still under intensive police investigation today.

Mrs. Emma Stouder, 88, and Mary Driver, 44, Mrs. Stouder's housekeeper, had been beaten with what police believe was a carpenter's level.

Also found in the house, unconscious, was 35-year-old William Landrum, owner of the house where Mrs. Stouder lived. Police Chief George Rice said Landrum was not beaten.

The chief said two empty bottles found near Landrum indicated he may have taken an overdose of drugs. He remains in poor condition in Chillicothe Hospital.

Police were called to the residence when neighbors reported the victims had not been seen since Sunday.

Ross County Coroner Dr. Donald Berling is awaiting results of an autopsy in both cases.

Both women appeared to have been badly beaten, the police chief said. Mrs. Stouder was found in the living room, Miss Driver on the floor of a bedroom, and Landrum on the bed in the same bedroom.

Nevada Approves Vote Amendment

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Nevada voters have narrowly approved a state constitutional amendment lowering the voting age to 18 in all elections.

Unofficial returns Tuesday from all but a handful of outlying areas showed the measure passing by about 2,000 votes out of some 75,000 cast.

Approval of the measure permits 18-through-20-year-olds to vote on all issues in the 1972 general election. The age already had been lowered for federal elections.

Senate Votes $2.7 Billion Military Pay Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Almost tripling the figure asked by President Nixon, the Senate has voted servicemen a $2.7-billion pay raise, including a 125-percent pay hike for recruits.

By a vote of 51 to 27, the Senate Tuesday reversed an earlier endorsement of the Nixon administration's $1-billion pay boost and approved an amendment by Sen. Gordon Allott, R-

Colo., adding another $1.7 billion.

The Senate acted two weeks after rejecting a proposal containing about the same amount of money but dividing it as the House had, between extra pay and allowances.

A recruit would get $301.50 in basic monthly pay under the Senate bill, compared with $268.50 in the House version, $201.90 under the administration plan and $134.40 under the existing pay scale.

The Senate bill raises the minimum pay for the lowest ranking officer from the current $450.60 a month to $612.30.

The Allott amendment uses pay scales drawn up by the Gates Commission, which was appointed by President Nixon and came out in favor of an all-volunteer force. The administration says it hopes to switch to such a force by mid-1973 but Armed Service Committee chairman Sen. John C. Stennis says he doubts that will be possible.

Several hours before passing the pay raise, the Senate agreed to vote next Wednesday on the McGovern-Hatfield amendment to cut off funds for

U.S. operations in Indochina Dec. 31, and to vote June 23 on a move to limit debate on the rest of the draft bill.

The two moves increased chances the draft-extension bill will be approved before the current draft law expires June 30.

Gilligan Raps Budget Cuts

Governor Sees School Closings

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Gov. John J. Gilligan says that the Republican-controlled legislature's cuts in his proposed budget will not provide the needy with proper assistance and will assure "wholesale school closings next fall."

Speaking here Tuesday night to the American Jewish Committee, Gilligan said the legislature's action does not reflect the concern which we have in our society for our fellow citizens.

He praised the AJC and similar organizations that have raised funds to aid the poor in Ohio.

"The paradox that confronts us here in Ohio is that while all our citizens applaud the efforts of private organizations to help those in need, some citizens criticize and even condemn public efforts—efforts of the government to give similar help," the governor said.

Gilligan said such private efforts were made necessary by the failure of government in the past to give adequate assistance to the needy.

"At present our needy citizens are caught in an agonizing limbo," Gilligan said. "We do not let them starve, but we do not give them a decent material life. We provide them just enough to survive, but not enough to live."

The action by Ohio Republicans in the House to cut $1 billion from the proposed budget "clearly demonstrate that the Republican legislators have preferred not to address the basic questions posed by our proposals," he said.

He pointed out that his proposed assistance payment to dependent children of $61 a month was cut to $45 a month and the program to aid Ohio's medically needy was eliminated completely.

A recruit would get $301.50 in basic monthly pay under the Senate bill, compared with $268.50 in the House version, Colo., adding another $1.7 billion.

Senate Votes $2.7 Billion Military Pay Hike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Almost tripling the figure asked by President Nixon, the Senate has voted servicemen a $2.7-billion raise, including a 125-percent pay hike for recruits.

By a vote of 51 to 27, the Senate Tuesday reversed an earlier endorsement of the Nixon administration's $1-billion pay boost and approved an amendment by Sen. Gordon Allott, R-

Ohio, adding another $1.7 billion.

The Senate acted two weeks after rejecting a proposal containing about the same amount of money but dividing it as the House had, between extra pay and allowances.

A recruit would get $301.50 in basic monthly pay under the Senate bill, compared with $268.50 in the House version, $201.90 under the administration plan and $134.40 under the existing pay scale.

The Senate bill raises the minimum pay for the lowest ranking officer from the current $450.60 a month to $612.30.

The Allott amendment uses pay scales drawn up by the Gates Commission, which was appointed by President Nixon and came out in favor of an all-volunteer force. The administration says it hopes to switch to such a force by mid-1973 but Armed Service Committee chairman Sen. John C. Stennis says he doubts that will be possible.

Several hours before passing the pay raise, the Senate agreed to vote next Wednesday on the McGovern-Hatfield amendment to cut off funds for

U.S. operations in Indochina Dec. 31, and to vote June 23 on a move to limit debate on the rest of the draft bill.

The two moves increased chances the draft-extension bill will be approved before the current draft law expires June 30.

Following approval of the Allott amendment, the Senate re-

Municipal Workers End New York City Walkout

NEW YORK (AP) — Striking municipal employees returned to work today after city and union leaders agreed to a proposal for ending the two-day walkout that throttled traffic Monday and spread to sewage treatment plants, incinerators, parks, beaches and even school lunch deliveries Tuesday.

Key to the four-point proposal by the city's office of collective bargaining was that the union's controversial pension plan would be resubmitted to the state legislature next year. Failure of the 1971 Legislature to act on the plan triggered the walkout.

The agreement announced Tuesday night also provided that if the 1972 Legislature, which will have the same political composition as this year's, fails to approve the plan, the issue will be renegotiated by the city and the union.

With the pact, District Council 37 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees immediately

Israel Won't Reopen Canal

JERUSALEM (AP) — Premier Golda Meir said today that Israel is still willing to reach a preliminary settlement with Egypt to reopen the Suez Canal but Israel's terms are unchanged. Egyptian President Anwar Sadat took an equally inflexible stand Tuesday.

"It cannot be seriously expected," Mrs. Meir told the Knesset, Israel's parliament, "that Israel will be prepared to leave the water line in order to enable the Egyptian and perhaps the Soviet army to cross the canal, and all this in a first stage of a total withdrawal from all the territories."

Mrs. Meir listed eight conditions her government is demanding for a canal agreement:

- Fighting on the canal front must not be renewed.
- Egypt must clear and operate the waterway.
- No Egyptian or other armies can cross the canal.
- Free passage for all shipping through the canal, Israeli included.
- Effective and agreed supervision procedures for the agreement.
- Means to deter any violations must be assured.
- Removal of Israeli forces from the canal bank must not be a stage leading to a further withdrawal before peace.
- The new line held by Israeli troops will not be a permanent boundary.

Public Works Bill Faces Nixon Veto

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a $5.5-billion public works bill facing a possible veto and containing elements of a possible presidential campaign issue next year.

The conference committee measure was sent to the House on a 45-33 vote Tuesday, despite Republican warnings it clashes head-on with President Nixon's revenue-sharing program and invites a veto.

Drawing strongest objections were the $2 billion to provide jobs in high unemployment areas and help build public works projects in depressed areas, and $1.5 billion to continue the Appalachian regional development program.

The measure also provides $1.95 billion to help local governments upgrade their economies through loans and other construction aids.

Democrats are expected to stress the economy and unemployment in their 1972 campaign.

The Senate originated the bill chiefly to extend Appalachian and other regional programs four years and the Appalachian highway building program five years.

The House expanded the legislation, tacking on the accelerated public works program. In conference the Democratic majority accepted the House version.

Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., called it "imprudent, pork-barrel legislation" costing $20,000 for each job created.

"This would build court-houses and city halls all over the country," Baker said, "but it will not concentrate the aid in the really needy areas which are crying for help."

Baker praised the Appalachian Regional Development programs but said they were being "held hostage to unwise legislative maneuvers."

ordered its 7,000 strikers back to work. Teamsters Local 237 had ordered 318 striking bridge-tenders back to work earlier.

At a City Hall news conference, Mayor John V. Lindsay said, "In my judgment, it's a sensible, rational, orderly procedure for the next couple of years." He said the city would push for acceptance of the plan "next year when time has cooled tempers."

Lindsay also said that three investigations were under way into possible sabotage at several of the 25 drawbridges that were locked in an open position when the surprise strike began at the start of the Monday morning rush hour.

All 25 of the bridges had been closed by city supervisory employees working with technical advisers from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and were reopened to traffic when the settlement came.

Victor Gotbaum, executive director of District Council 37, said he viewed the settlement as a union victory.

The strike end came after Manhattan Supreme Court Justice Harold Baer granted a preliminary injunction ordering the workers back to their jobs.

The action would have permitted the city to seek penalties under the state's Taylor law which prohibits strikes by public employees and could have cost strikers two day's pay for each day off the job.

"I'm not prepared to discuss that."

Clifford's remarks came in an emotion - tinged address Tuesday night to several hundred antiwar lobbyists who are working hurriedly this week in behalf of proposals in both House and Senate to cut off U.S. funds for the war Dec. 31.

The Senate agreed earlier in the day to vote June 16 on its version, an amendment by Sens. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., and George S. McGovern, D-S.D. A similar measure failed 55 to 39 last year.

House Democratic Whip Thomas P. O'Neill of Massachusetts said, meanwhile, he has counted around 150 votes of a needed 215 for a June 23 showdown on a fund-cutoff amendment by Reps. Lucien Nedzi, D-Mich., and Charles Whalen, R-Ohio.

Clifford, who served as secretary of defense in 1968, said the proposed deadline could carry safeguards for both sides.

"If our prisoners are not returned within 30 days from date of announcement of the agreement, then our obligation to withdraw is terminated," he said. "If Hanoi and the NLF return our prisoners . . . then the other side has the assurance that the enormous pressure of domestic and world opinion removal by the terminal date." removal by te terminal date."

Stock List Down Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Glamour issues paced a stock market decline today for the second straight session. Trading was moderate.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was off 2.41 at 912.60. It fell 8.05 Tuesday.

Losers rolled up a margin of more than 2 to 1 among issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

The retreat embraced the steels, electronics, utilities, non-ferrous metals, chemicals, rails, airlines, tobaccos and building materials. Drugs advanced.

The noon Associated Press 60-stock average was down 8 to 322.4, with industrials off .7, rails off .7, and utilities off .4.

Losses in the volatile glamour area included IBM 1 1/2 to 311, National Cash Register 1/2 to 47 1/4, Polaroid 1/4 to 108 1/4, and Xerox 1/2 to 109 1/4.

Analysts said investors continued to be cautious in view of widespread speculation about possible boosts in interest rates. Profit taking continued to depress the market they said.

Theme Set For Ashville Celebration

"Freedom Is Worth Fighting For" will be the theme of the 42nd Ashville Fourth of July Celebration July 2-5.

Miss Sheri Barr, 171 Long St., Ashville, submitted the winning entry in the theme contest held in Teays Valley Schools.

For her entry Miss Barr will receive a $10 award and be honored as the parade marshal on July 5. Miss Bonnie Hall will receive the second award of $7.50 for her entry and Miss Valerie Houser the $5 third award. Receiving honorable mention were entries of Miss Karen Von Ins and Cindy Ann Beattie.

Here is Miss Barr's winning composition:

"When Thomas Jefferson and his fellow Americans came together in July of 1776 to write the Declaration of Independence, they must have believed that freedom was worth fighting for. Had they not believed this, they would never have suggested breaking away from England.

"They proved their belief in both the revolutionary war and the war of 1812 when they fought England for their freedom.

"Soldiers in the Civil War, World Wars I and II, the Korean War and now the war in Vietnam surely believed that their freedom was worth fighting and dying for.

"Today so many men are criticized for fighting for their country. I believe in my country, its citizens, and its soldiers, enough to trust them with the defense of our country and my freedom."

Set Ceremony For Return Of Okinawa

PARIS (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Foreign Minister Kiichi Aichi agreed today to ceremonies on June 17 for the signing of the agreement returning Okinawa to Japan in 1972.

"All questions were settled," said a spokesman for Rogers, Robert McCloskey, after the two ministers met for nearly two hours at the U.S. Embassy.

McCloskey refused to give any details. But informed sources said the agreement provides for:

1. The removal of all nuclear weapons from the island.
2. Conversion of Naha airport into a completely civilian installation.
3. Payment by Japan for bases given up by the United States. Some reports said the price is to be $30 million.
4. Transfer of the Voice of America station on Okinawa to a private company.

Train Kills 4 Near Lima

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Train-car accidents at an unmarked railroad crossing west of here have claimed seven lives in three months.

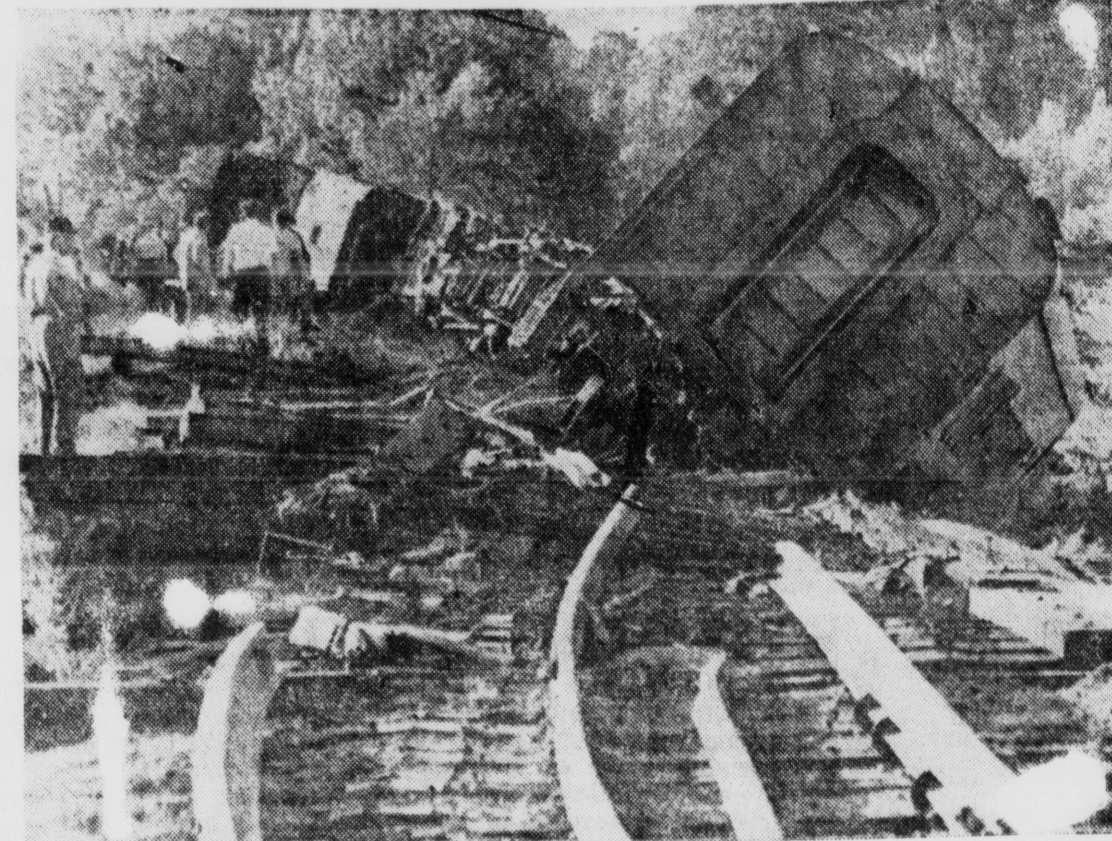

The latest victims were a Spencerville woman and her three small daughters, killed Tuesday when a 17-car Penn Central freight slammed into the auto.

They were identified as Mrs. Rodney Decker, 29, and daughters Corena 10, Carolyn 9, and Robin 4.

Three Elida High School youths were killed at the same crossing March 26 when their car was hit by a train.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said there are no signal lights at the rural crossing.

The car containing the woman and three children was carried a half-mile down the tracks.

Assassination Thrusts Chile Into Major Crisis

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chile's left-wing government was plunged into a major crisis today following the assassination of a former vice president and outspoken antileftist.

Edmundo Perez Zujovic, who as interior minister was No. 2 man in President Eduardo Frei's Christian Democratic administration, was ambushed Tuesday by three young men who police said were believed to be members of an ultraleft extremist organization, the Organized Vanguard of the People.

President Salvador Allende, a Marxist, declared in a broadcast that the assassination was "a deliberate provocation intended to alter the institutional life of the country."

The right-wing National party said the killing was "the culmination of a series of attacks by armed Marxists whose actions have been tolerated by the government." The Christian Democrats called on the government to wipe out such groups.

Allende declared a state of emergency in Santiago Province, ordered a 1 a.m. to 6 a.m. curfew and suspended some constitutional rights.

Thousands of police and troops with the power to search and make arrests without warrants launched a dragnet for the killers. Police set up roadblocks on all roads leading out of Santiago and ordered all private planes grounded.

The Christian Democrats demanded that army intelligence instead of the police handle the investigation. The party said it had no confidence in the detective force, which is now headed by a militant Socialist. It also charged that Zujovic had been the target of "a daily slander campaign conducted by radios and newspapers that support the government."

Zujovic, a self-made man who made a fortune in the construction business, controlled the police as interior minister and used them without hesitation against leftist demonstrations and other activities. The left called him the "hard-handed one" and blamed him for the deaths of nine persons in March 1969, when police fired on demonstrating squatters in the southern city of Puerto Montt.

Police said one of the men sought for Zujovic's murder

Corn Blight Back In Ohio

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — Laboratory tests have confirmed the existence of Southern corn leaf blight in Pickaway and Henry counties, but the corn crop is too young for scientists to determine how serious the disease might be.

"At this stage of the game it really means nothing," said Dr. Lansing Williams, coordinator of Ohio's corn blight watch project at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center here.

"We would expect a few lesions at this time of the year," Williams said.

"This doesn't mean it is going to become epidemic; this will depend on weather and moisture."

The blight ruined much of last year's crop in Ohio, particularly the southern region, and in other Corn Belt states.

Williams said the Henry County case was confirmed in young corn, newly-planted this year. In Pickaway County, he said, it was in volunteer corn, seedlings growing from dropped ears of last year's crop.

At this early stage in corn growth, Williams said, blighted corn will show small, light-to-dark brown spots on leaves.

He said agriculture officials are beginning to take spore samples from the air to see if blight spores are present.

Mayor Winner In Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Mayor Charles Stenvig has rolled up 72 per cent of the vote in defeating a black candidate who opposed his bid for a second term. Final, unofficial returns from the election Tuesday showed Stenvig with 81,280 votes to 31,146 for Democratic-Farmer-Labor party challenger Henry Davis, the black president of the Minneapolis Urban Coalition.

It was the biggest victory yet for the mayor, an independent who won in 1969 with 61.8 per cent of the vote and had 62.3 per cent of the vote in this year's primary.

"I guess it was God's will again," Stenvig, 43, told several hundred supporters in his victory speech. "And He'll be in my corner again. It's a team victory for the citizens of Minneapolis."

was Ronald Rivera Calderon, 25-year-old member of the Organized Vanguard. The police said he is also wanted for the killing of a policeman two weeks ago in an attack on a bank truck, and ballistics tests indicated the submachine gun that killed Zujovic was the same one that was taken from the slain policeman.

It was the second assassination here in eight months. Gen. Rene Schneider, Chile's army commander, was killed in an ambush on Oct. 22, just before a special congressional election confirmed Allende as president. That killing was blamed on ultrarightists trying to provoke a military coup that would prevent Allende from taking office.

Identification Planned For Village Cruiser

New Holland's police cruiser will be equipped with radio, warning lights and siren and have identifying decals.

Village Mayor Lincoln Schwartz cast the deciding vote on the resolution offered at Monday council meeting.

Three council members opposed the installation, three had approved. The mayor broke the tie to favor the equipment.

Council members approved employment of Wilbur Frazier to mow weeds where necessary, also approved a motion to join the Southern Ohio Criminal Justice Coordinating Council.

Reported were the $985 collected during the month in fines, mostly traffic violations, replacement of the N. Main St. culvert at the cemetery, and chuck holes on Circle Ave. repaired.

Acceptance of trash receptacles donated to the village was unanimously approved.

jected 63 to 15 a proposal by Sen. Mike Gravel D-Alaska to keep the statute of limitations for prosecuting draft evaders at five years from the youth's 18th birthday. The bill makes a registrant liable for prosecution up to age 31 instead of 23.

The Senate also:

—Approved 47 to 31 an amendment by Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., to let young men register to vote in federal elections at the time they register for the draft. It was opposed by senators who said it would complicate registration procedures and discriminate against women.

—Rejected an amendment by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., to broaden the definition of conscientious objector from those who oppose war in any form to include those objecting to a particular war, such as the Vietnam conflict. The Supreme Court ruled recently that only those who oppose war in any form could be conscientious objectors.

Debate is due to start Thursday on the McGovern-Hatfield fund-cutoff amendment, defeated a year ago by a vote of 55 to 39.

Municipal Workers End New York City Walkout

NEW YORK (AP) — Striking municipal employees returned to work today after city and union leaders agreed to a proposal for ending the two-day walkout that throttled traffic Monday and spread to sewage treatment plants, incinerators, parks, beaches and even school lunch deliveries Tuesday.

Key to the four-point proposal by the city's office of collective bargaining was that the union's controversial pension plan would be resubmitted to the state legislature next year. Failure of the 1971 Legislature to act on the plan triggered the walkout.

The agreement announced Tuesday night also provided that if the 1972 Legislature, which will have the same political composition as this year's, fails to approve the plan, the issue will be renegotiated by the city and the union.

With the pact, District Council 37 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees immediately ordered its 7,000 strikers back to work. Teamsters Local 337 had ordered 318 striking bridge-tenders back to work earlier.

At a City Hall news conference, Mayor John V. Lindsay said, "In my judgment, it's a sensible, rational, orderly procedure for the next couple of years." He said the city would push for acceptance of the plan "next year when time has cooled tempers."

Lindsay also said that three investigations were under way into possible sabotage at several of the 25 drawbridges that were locked in an open position when the surprise strike began at the start of the Monday morning rush hour.

All 25 of the bridges had been closed by city supervisory employees working with technical advisers from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and were reopened to traffic when the settlement came.

Victor Gotbaum, executive director of District Council 37, said he viewed the settlement as a union victory.

The strike ended after Manhattan Supreme Court Justice Harold Baer granted a preliminary injunction ordering the workers back to their jobs.

The action would have permitted the city to seek penalties under the state's Taylor law which prohibits strikes by public employees and could have cost strikers two days' pay for each day off the job.

Jerusalem (AP) — Premier Golda Meir said today that Israel is still willing to reach a preliminary settlement with Egypt to reopen the Suez Canal but Israel's terms are unchanged. Egyptian President Anwar Sadat took an equally inflexible stand Tuesday.

"It cannot be seriously expected," Mrs. Meir told the Knesset, Israel's parliament, "that Israel will be prepared to leave the water line in order to enable the Egyptian and perhaps the Soviet army to cross the canal, and all this in a first stage of a total withdrawal from all the territories."

Mrs. Meir listed eight conditions her government is demanding for a canal agreement:

—Fighting on the canal front must not be renewed.

—Egypt must clear and operate the waterway.

—No Egyptian or other armies can cross the canal.

—Free passage for all shipping through the canal, Israeli included.

—Effective and agreed supervision procedures for the agreement.

—Means to deter any violations must be assured.

—Removal of Israeli forces from the canal bank must not be a stage leading to a further withdrawal before peace.

—The new line held by Israeli troops will not be a permanent boundary.

—If Hanoi and the NLF return our prisoners . . . then the other side has the assurance that the enormous pressure of domestic and world opinion removal by the terminal date."

Theme Set For Ashville Celebration

"Freedom Is Worth Fighting For" will be the theme of the 42nd Ashville Fourth of July Celebration July 2-5.

Miss Sheri Barr, 171 Long St., Ashville, submitted the winning entry in the theme contest held in Teays Valley Schools.

For her entry Miss Barr will receive a $10 award and be honored as the parade marshal on July 5. Miss Bonnie Hall will receive the second award of $7.50 for her entry and Miss Valerie Houser the $5 third award. Receiving honorable mention were entries of Miss Karen Von Ins and Cindy Ann Beattie.

Here is Miss Barr's winning composition:

"When Thomas Jefferson and his fellow Americans came together in July of 1776 to write the Declaration of Independence, they must have believed that freedom was worth fighting for. Had they not believed this, they would never have suggested breaking away from England.

"They proved their belief in both the revolutionary war and the war of 1812 when they fought England for their freedom.

"Soldiers in the Civil War, World Wars I and II, the Korean War and now the war in Vietnam surely believed that their freedom was worth fighting and dying for.

and tear gas shells into besieged Firebase 5, near the tri-border juncture of South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia. The Saigon command said South Vietnamese casualties were light. U.S. B-52 bombers dropped 90 tons of explosives on North Vietnamese positions six miles to the southwest.

South Vietnamese infantrymen probing long time North Vietnamese base camps in western Quang Ngai Province, a farm used to feed enemy troops and a big munitions stockpile, headquarters said.

A communiqué said the searchers captured 1.5 tons of rice, two tons of corn and potatoes, a number of farm animals and about a ton of 82mm mortar shells. Two enemy soldiers were reported killed. No South Vietnamese losses were reported.

House Democratic Whip Thomas P. O'Neill of Massachusetts said, meanwhile, he has counted around 150 votes of a needed 215 for the June 23 showdown on a fund-cutoff amendment by Reps. Lucien Nedzi, D-Mich., and Charles Whalen, R-Ohio.

Clifford, who served as secretary of defense in 1968, said the proposed deadline could carry safeguards for both sides.

"If our prisoners are not returned within 30 days from date of announcement of the agreement, then our obligation to withdraw is terminated," he said. "If Hanoi and the NLF return our prisoners . . . then the other side has the assurance that the enormous pressure of domestic and world opinion removal by the terminal date."

UNTRACKED IN MILWAUKEE—Neighborhood residents and rescue workers are seen amid the wreckage of a Milwaukee Road commuter train, derailed over the North Ave. Bridge in Brookfield, Wis., a Milwaukee suburb. The engine and coaches tipped over, injuring 25 persons, none seriously.

Assassination Thrusts Chile Into Major Crisis

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chile's left-wing government was plunged into a major crisis today following the assassination of a former vice president and outspoken anticlist.

Edmundo Perez Zujovic, who as interior minister was No. 2 man in President Eduardo Frei's Christian Democratic administration, was ambushed Tuesday by three young men who police said were believed to be members of an ultraleft extremist organization, the Organized Vanguard of the People.

President Salvador Allende, a Marxist, declared in a broadcast that the assassination was "a deliberate provocation intended to alter the institutional life of the country."

The right-wing National party said the killing was "the culmination of a series of attacks by armed Marxists whose actions have been tolerated by the government." The Christian Democrats called on the government to wipe out such groups.

Allende declared a state of emergency in Santiago Province, ordered a 1 a.m. to 6 a.m. curfew and suspended some constitutional rights.

Thousands of police and troops with the power to search and make arrests without warrants launched a dragnet for the killers. Police set up roadblocks on all roads leading out of Santiago and ordered all private planes grounded.

The Christian Democrats demanded that army intelligence instead of the police handle the investigation. The party said it had no confidence in the detective force, which is now headed by a militant Socialist. It also charged that Zujovic had been the target of "a daily slander campaign conducted by radios and newspapers that support the government."

Zujovic, a self-made man who made a fortune in the construction business, controlled he police as interior minister and used them without hesitation against leftist demonstrations and other activities. The left called him the "hard-handed one" and blamed him for the deaths of nine persons in March 1969, when police fired on demonstrating squatters in the southern city of Puerto Mont.

Police said one of the men sought for Zujovic's murder

was Ronald Rivera Calderon, 25-year-old member of the Organized Vanguard. The police said he is also wanted for the killing of a policeman two weeks ago in an attack on a bank truck, and ballistics tests indicated the submachine gun that killed Zujovic was the same one that was taken from the slain policeman.

It was the second assassination here in eight months. Gen. Rene Schneider, Chile's army commander, was killed in an ambush on Oct. 22, just before a special congressional election confirmed Allende as president.

That killing was blamed on ultrarightists trying to provoke a military coup that would prevent Allende from taking office.

"At this stage of the game it really means nothing," said Dr. Lansing Williams, coordinator of Ohio's corn blight watch project at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center here.

"We would expect a few lesions at this time of the year," Williams said.

"This doesn't mean it is going to become epidemic; this will depend on weather and moisture."

The blight ruined much of last year's crop in Ohio, particularly the southern region, and in other Corn Belt states.

Williams said the Henry County case was confirmed in young corn, newly-planted this year, in Pickaway County, he said, it was in volunteer corn, seedlings growing from dropped ears of last year's crop.

At this early stage in corn growth, Williams said, blighted corn will show small, light-to-dark brown spots on leaves.

He said agriculture officials are beginning to take spore samples from the air to see if blight spores are present.

New Holland's police cruiser will be equipped with radio, warning lights and siren and have identifying decals.

Village Mayor Lincoln Schwartz cast the deciding vote on the resolution offered at Monday council meeting.

Three council members opposed the installation, three had approved. The mayor broke the tie to favor the equipment.

Council members approved employment of Wilbur Frazier to mow weeds where necessary, also approved a motion to join the Southern Ohio Criminal Justice Coordinating Council.

Reported were the $985 collected during the month in fines, mostly traffic violations, replacement of the N. Main St. culvert at the cemetery, and chuck holes on Circle Ave. repaired.

Acceptance of trash receptacles donated to the village was unanimously approved.

"I guess it was God's will again," Stenvig, 43, told several hundred supporters in his victory speech. "And He'll be in my corner again. It's a team victory for the citizens of Minneapolis."

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Mayor Charles Stenvig has rolled up 72 per cent of the vote in defeating a black candidate who opposed his bid for a second term. Final, unofficial returns from the election Tuesday showed Stenvig with 81,280 votes to 31,146 for Democratic-Farmer-Labor party challenger Henry Davis, the black president of the Minneapolis Urban Coalition.

It was the biggest victory yet for the mayor, an independent who won in 1969 with 61.8 per cent of the vote and had 62.3 per cent of the vote in this year's primary.

Something New

Automotive innovations are coming along at an accelerating pace, not surprisingly in view of the increasing pressures from both industry competition and government and consumer groups.

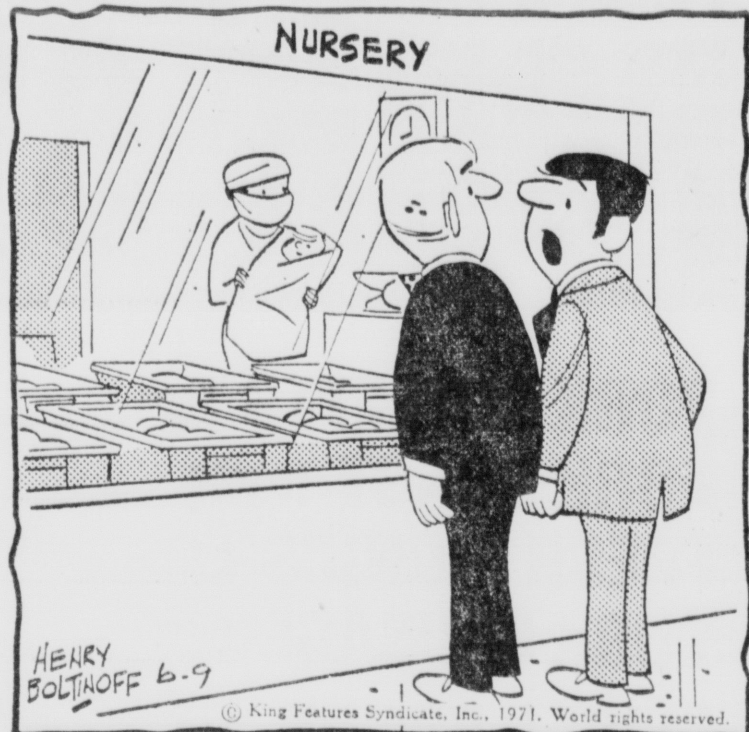

Some of the innovations may not last. Others will set the trend for the motor car of the future.

One need only survey a line of traffic to see a wider array of shapes and sizes than have ever been available, but it is what is under the hood that interests many. Of more than casual interest, particularly to the American manufacturers, is a Japanese car with an unconventional rotary engine.

Now being distributed in 80 countries, the car has only begun its penetration of the U.S. market. That lightweight engine, with only one-third the usual parts but still operating on the internal combustion principle, is the innovation with the greatest potential — to succeed or fail.

AT A LITERARY cocktail party, a very pretty girl was asked, "If you were marooned on a tiny island in the Pacific and could have only one thing to read, what would be your choice?" Her unhesitating reply was, "A tattooed sailor."

The crew of the cruise ship "Olympia" will long remember one lady passenger who hung up a record for the shortest stay ever made by a tourist in the lovely island of Bermuda. When the ship set down its gangplank at the Hamilton dock, said lady was the first to disembark. Within three minutes, she had hired a motor bike and within another two had lost control of it. While other passengers panicked, she circled wildly about the dock, streaked back up to the gangplank and crashed into a pile of luggage about to be carried ashore. She was still in the ship infirmary, nursing various and sundry bruises, when the "Olympia" set sail on its return journey to the States.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Our 3-year-old son picked up an electric cord that had been separated from the vacuum cleaner and was still plugged into the wall. For some strange reason, he put it in his mouth and was blown clear across the room. We are told that he is fortunate to be alive and we are most grateful for the emergency help that made this possible.

Now, sir, I recall distinctly your warning about safety in the home and remember, too, how casually I took for granted your warning. I hope other readers will benefit from our sad experience and thoroughly inspect their home for deadly traps.

Mr. J.U., Nev. Dear Mr. U.: I could not have written a column that highlights safety better than your letter does. We do take for granted the security in our home, overlooking the traps that commonly surround us.

Recently a child was brought to my office with a severe face injury that narrowly missed his eyes. His small brother had thrown a dart at him. It was a dart from an adult game. It seems inconceivable that such a potentially dangerous weapon could have been carelessly left in the open.

I hope you readers all will take a few moments out of your frenetic lives and, as a family game, explore your homes for hidden hazards.

Does one attack of pyelitis mean that the kidney is permanently damaged?

Mrs. M.M., N.Y. Dear Mrs. M.: Not necessarily. Even repeated attacks of pyelitis need not mean that the kidney is permanently affected. Pyelitis is an inflammation of the kidney in the area where the ureter emerges. The ureter is a small tube which carries urine from the kidney to the bladder.

Frequently, there is associated inflammation of the kidney and the condition is known as pyelonephritis. When such infections are suspected, the offending germs are cultured from the urine and then the appropriate antibiotic and sulfa drugs are rigorously used. Early and active treatment can result in a rapid cure. Only rarely is chronic disease of the kidney a permanent after-effect.

The Attack On Lockheed

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The Lockheed Aircraft Corporation is in trouble because of the Rolls Royce failure in England. Senator Alan Cranston (D., Calif.) wants the Lockheed board of directors to resign as a condition to getting that proposed government guarantee for $250 million in bank loans to continue operating. Since the Lockheed board is, in large part, what is known as an "outside" board, the Cranston proposal might seem a relatively innocuous thing. Outside advisers can always be replaced by other outsiders. It so happens, however, that one of Lockheed's directors is Clarence L., or "Kelly," Johnson, who is probably the greatest designer of aircraft in the western world. The question is: does Senator Cranston know the full scope of his own proposal? Assuming that Kelly Johnson would be forced to leave the company to meet the Cranston condition, wouldn't a big part of Lockheed's value be departing with him?

Lockheed, of course, has been more than Kelly Johnson, but it could be argued nonetheless that Johnson has been the company's greatest single individual asset. The general public knew little about him until Francis Gary Powers, flying a mysterious high-altitude spy plane known as the U-2, was knocked out of the sky over Russia. Then, as the white light of publicity beat down upon our spy program for the first time, the country learned that the U-2 was the peculiar "baby" of Kelly Johnson, who had found a way to build glider characteristics into a plane. Johnson's feat, which enabled us to know what the Soviets were doing about military preparations during some of the worst years of the Cold War, was fully as important as breaking the Japanese code in World War II.

The U-2 is only one of Johnson's many contributions to U.S. air superiority. He was responsible for the YF-12A and the SR-71, the "sister" supersonic planes which have made new records. It is a matter for ironical contemplation that, during all the fuss about the alleged "menace" of the now suspended SST, nobody mentioned the fact that Kelly Johnson's supersonic planes have been flying secret missions for more than five years.

The SR-71, which can exceed 2,000 miles per hour in continuous flight, has not demonstrably polluted the upper atmosphere or caused skin cancer.

To build the SR-71 Kelly Johnson had to pioneer new metallurgical ground. Any good aeronautical engineer can predict the speed characteristics of an ordinary plane by conducting experiments in a wind tunnel. But when a plane exceeds the speed of sound, the heat expansion of alloyed metals can introduce quirks. The coefficient of expansion at high speeds is not necessarily the same at different points of a supersonic plane's structure. The guests at an American Metals Association meeting in Cleveland were spellbound by Kelly Johnson, who probably knows more about titanium than any other non-metallurgist around.

Johnson's experience is at the heart of U.S. ability to keep up with enemy nations in our air development. The best that can be said of Senator Cranston's obliviousness to what blanket dismissal of the Lockheed board might do is that he has been unselective in his charges. The same goes for Senator William Proxmire's blanket enmity toward Lockheed.

Kelly Johnson isn't the only member of the Lockheed high command who deserves the gratitude of the nation. The Pentagon is extremely worried about the predictions, grounded on satellite photography of what has been happening at Soviet missile sites, that within a year the Communists will have a first-strike capacity that might destroy our ICBMs in their silos. If the Soviets were to achieve the ability to deliver a knockout blow against our fixed ICBM bases, our only means of retaliation would be the Polaris-Poseidon submarine ballistic missiles that Lockheed developed. It is a Lockheed product and Lockheed expertise, that may ultimately be the only thing that guarantees our continued existence as a free nation.

THE RIGHT APPROACH—Sen. Edmund Muskie seems to be contemplating the scope of things to come if the number one means anything on this green at North Oaks Country Club in St. Paul. The Democratic legislator from Maine, aspirant for the presidency, was in Minnesota making a speech.

The Circleville GE Lamp Plant put a third shift into operation.

Karen Ann Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ford, E. Town St., was Circleville's first June baby.

Circleville was cited by the National Safety Council having recorded no traffic fatalities in 1955.

Thomas Krimm, Stella Ave. and George Bowling, Route 2 were named Pickaway County delegates to the American Legion-sponsored Buckeye Boys State.

President Eisenhower's appointment of Charles Walters as permanent postmaster of Circleville was confirmed.

Philos Lodge 61, K of P honored Harry Gordon, Max Dulsky and Hylas Valentine who reached the 50-year membership mark.

Open House was extended at the Scioto Grain and Supply Co., Ashville, for inspection of the firm's new storage bins.

N. Scioto St. between Main and High Sts. became a one-way northbound street.

Local barber of more than 50 years, Ferd Martin, 145 Pleasant St., died at the age of 71.

An apparent heart attack victim was Chester C. Wolf, 71, widely known Circleville hay dealer.

Winorr Canning Co. board chairman, Clarence Barnhart, 163 Montclair Ave., died at the age of 69.

The 66th Anniversary sale was underway at Rothman's.

Air conditioning was installed in the local Murphy store for shoppers' comfort.

Harness racing at Pickaway County Fairgrounds netted $382 for sponsors, the Circleville Jaycees. Races were planned locally, for five seasons. Proceeds were to be used to construct a new grandstand for the local race track.

Two new buildings, a $1 million project, were planned at Circleville's Du Pont plant to provide facilities for coating "Mylar" polyester film.

One thousand dollar scholarships in elementary education were granted Doris Haughn, Scioto Twp., Jacqueline Ann Beach, Scioto Twp. and Lowell Gordon Anderson, Salt Creek Twp.

The Business World

By JACK LEFLER (For John Cuniff)

NEW YORK (AP) — It's likely to be quite a while before anyone asks how you want your petroleumburger cooked. But progress is being made in producing food from crude oil.

Oil company scientists are moving ahead slowly but steadily in their efforts to help ease a growing shortage of high-grade protein food.

They have been working in their laboratories for quite a number of years, and finally some plants of modest size have been built to turn out the synthetic food on a commercial basis.

In the simplest terms, organisms—yeasts and bacteria—are grown on a diet of petroleum to produce single-cell protein—SCP—with nutritional value comparable to meat.

These microbes—the yeasts and bacteria—biochemically change petroleum hydrocarbons into protein with dazzling speed.

As an example, a 1,000-pound steer can make about one pound of useful protein in one day's growth, but 1,000 pounds of microbes can make 4,000 pounds of protein in a day.

The intensive effort to produce a synthetic food is inspired by the fact that two-thirds of the world's population doesn't get enough protein now, and some scientists say that new protein sources, in addition to plants, animals and fish, must be developed to avoid mass famine in the still more populous future.

"The final SCP product is a fine, white powder bland tasting and odorless — that mixes well with other foods," says the American Petroleum Institute. "In most cases, the immediate objective of the SCP projects is to produce a food supplement that can be fed to livestock and thereby enrich human diets in a secondary way.

"But the ultimate aim is to develop SCP that can be eaten directly by human beings. This is particularly important because more than 300-million children throughout the world exist on protein-deficient diets that seriously affect their health, retard their growth and even impair their mental development."

British Petroleum Co. has built two plants of modest size in Scotland and France to produce protein by hydrocarbon fermentation. It said the product will be used to enrich animal feeds, principally for turkeys, chickens, hogs and for fish farming.

Scientists concede that one of the biggest problems will be to persuade people to eat food made of petroleum-based protein.

According To Boyle

By JAKE BOOHER (For Hal Boyle)

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — I fully realized, on getting married three years ago, that Mary and I would have to make adjustments for each other's eccentricities.

But, I thought, who could ask for more in a wife? As a professional home economist, she knows all the old and new tricks of cooking, sewing and running a household. And being very talented with her hands, Mary is excellent with handicrafts, decorations and do-it-yourself.

There is one catch. She almost never finishes anything she starts.

We've got unfinished business around our apartment you wouldn't dream of. It's stuffed in closets, stacked in corners, slid under beds, jammed in drawers, laying on tables. It's both hidden away and in plain sight. And it's endless.

Take, for example, the hooked rug that she started making two years before we were married. It's 4 by 6 feet, and is from a pattern she designed herself. When we were married, it was about 8-10ths finished. Now, I estimate it's about 17-20ths finished.

All the time, it's been sitting in the corner of our living room. Kind of a conversation piece.

When friends were visiting the other night, in fact, Priscilla held up the rug for her husband Lee and said, "Look at this beautiful hooked rug Mary is making!"

I felt like saying, "It was a lot more beautiful before it collected three years of New York City soot from that window you're standing by."

Then there's the sports coat she decided to make me on my first birthday after our marriage. She bought the fabric to present to me on the big day along with the promise that a finished coat would follow. That was in 1968, and I haven't seen the fabric since.

Mary does finish some of her projects, and they turn out beautifully, making me feel blessed indeed to have such a talented wife.

And, I keep telling myself, Mary's idiosyncrasy never affects her housework. Still, I can't help having my suspicions.

Sometimes I find myself rinsing the dishes she left soapy in the sink because, she says, our 22-month-old son Joel interrupted her dishwashing.

The blinds on our kitchen window have 23 clean slats and 12 dirty ones. Slowly, but surely, the two tones are becoming one.

Maybe I should rebel. I think I'll start by not finishing this column.

Automotive innovations are coming along at an accelerating pace, not surprisingly in view of the increasing pressures from both industry competition and government and consumer groups.

Some of the innovations may not last. Others will set the trend for the motor car of the future.

One need only survey a line of traffic to see a wider array of shapes and sizes than have ever been available, but it is what is under the hood that interests many. Of more than casual interest, particularly to the American manufacturers, is a Japanese car with an unconventional rotary engine.

Now being distributed in 80 countries, the car has only begun its penetration of the U.S. market. That lightweight engine, with only one-third the usual parts but still operating on the internal combustion principle, is the innovation with the greatest potential — to succeed or fail.

The Treasury would only be guaranteeing the loan, which would be made by private banks. If Lockheed were subsequently to go bankrupt, the Federal Government would have first lien on the existing Lockheed assets. But no matter what happens to Lockheed, it is important that the ability of Kelly Johnson and his mates should not be lost to the republic.

Air conditioning was installed in the local Murphy store for shoppers' comfort.

Harness racing at Pickaway County Fairgrounds netted $382 for sponsors, the Circleville Jaycees. Races were planned, locally, for five seasons. Proceeds were to be used to construct a new grandstand for the local race track.

Two new buildings, a $1 million project, were planned at Circleville's Du Pont plant to provide facilities for coating "Mylar" polyester film.

One thousand dollar scholarships in elementary education were granted Doris Haughn, Scioto Twp., Jacqueline Ann Beach, Scioto Twp. and Lowell Gordon Anderson, Salt Creek Twp.

By JAKE BOOHER (For Hal Boyle)

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — I fully realized, on getting married three years ago, that Mary and I would have to make adjustments for each other's eccentricities.

But, I thought, who could ask for more in a wife? As a professional home economist, she knows all the old and new tricks of cooking, sewing and running a household. And being very talented with her hands, Mary is excellent with handicrafts, decorations and do-it-herself.

There is one catch. She almost never finishes anything she starts.

Dear Editor,

I would like to express my appreciation to all parents, teachers, friends and members of the Junior and Senior Class for their fine cooperation in making the After-Prom Party a success.

I especially want to thank all who helped to finance the party, my committee and those people who worked so diligently with them in making it a memorable night.

Then last but not proudly I want to say "thank you students and guests," for the fine way in which you conducted yourselves. May God bless each of you as you leave school to go your separate ways.

Newark Fete To Spotlight Heisey Glass

Newark, Ohio will host the Land of Legend Festival June 16-20 featuring the Licking County Glass Industry, Past, Present and Future.

Highlights of the event will include the first National Heisey Glass Convention, the largest collection of Heisey glassware ever assembled, the dedication of the New Moundbuilders Museum by the Ohio Historical Society, and a train ride through historical areas of the county to Cambridge and the Cambridge Glass Works.

A festival prelude, carnival and concessions will open June 16. Scheduled events begin noon June 17.

Heisey collectors will find the displays of special interest. Newark is the home of the Heisey Glass Company which operated from 1895 to 1957. Glassware will be on display during the festival from many of the workmen's collection, estimated by officials to be worth nearly one-quarter of a million dollars.

The National Heisey Club will spend a day at Imperial Glass Works, Bellaire. They have planned a ball, glass discussions, an old time auto tour of the county, a glass auction, and an outdoor cooking session.

The Moundbuilders State Memorial Museum will be dedicated on June 20. The museum will contain 1,056 square feet of exhibits around a profile of a Hopewell Indian Burial Mound. It will include burial ceremonies, charnal house, the everyday life of the Indians, copper art work, mica, bear teeth, obsidian, marine shells, pipes, pottery, and a map of the Hopewell locations in Ohio and other eastern states. It is located in the Moundbuilders Park.

Festival Headquarters are located at 29 North Fourth Street, Newark, Ohio 43055. For further information, write or phone 614-345-0745.

Chubb Stock Sold By Cincy Company

CINCINNATI (AP) — American Financial Corp., a Cincinnati-based holding company, Tuesday sold 875,000 shares of The Chubb Corp., a New York insurance firm, to and through Salomon Brothers, a New York banking firm, for approximately $54 million.

Carl H. Lindner, AFC president and board chairman said: "AFC realized in excess of $54 million, which is approximately $11 million more than its costs for the securities."

AFC retained 101,341 shares of The Chubb Corp.

Questions Taxpayers Ask

(Q) As a result of a fire, I had to leave my apartment and live in a motel for several months. My insurance company reimbursed a portion of my living expenses for this period. Is this reimbursement taxable?

(A) That portion of the reimbursement covering the normal living expenses, such as rent and meals, you would have incurred had the fire not taken place is taxable. The insurance payments covering the additional living expenses caused by the loss of your residence due to fire are not taxable. The living expenses reimbursement will not reduce any casualty loss you may be entitled to deduct on your tax return.

For more information, see Publication 547, "Tax Information on Disasters, Casualty Losses and Thefts." It's available free from any IRS office.

(Q) The IRS computed my tax for me and sent me a bill for the additional tax due. Can I pay the tax in installments?

(A) No. The entire tax must be paid within thirty days of the date of the bill. Interest and penalty charges will apply if the amount due remains unpaid beyond the due date.

(Q) Instead of making an estimated tax declaration, can I just increase my withholding?

(A) Yes, you may increase withholding to avoid making an estimated tax declaration. To determine the amount of additional withholding needed, use the worksheet that came with the estimated tax package. Make sure your balance due on Form 1040 for 1971 will then be less than $40. If you did not get an estimated forms package, the 1040ES worksheet may be obtained at your local IRS office.

(Q) My son is planning to deposit his earnings from a summer job in the bank in order to pay for college. Do I count these earnings when I figure his total support to see if I can claim him as a dependent?

(A) If your son keeps his earnings in the bank for the year, his earnings are not counted as support for that year. If he saves but also spends the money on support items, such as education, this year, then these funds have to be taken into account in computing his total support and his contribution to that support for 1971.

To meet the support test, you must provide over one-half the cost of providing your son's total support including food, shelter, clothing, medical and dental care. Educational expenses are also included.

(Q) While cleaning out my desk drawer, I found a copy of an old tax return of mine and noticed a deduction I neglected to take. Is it too late to correct the mistake?

(A) You can correct an error by filing an amended return, Form 1040X. It must be filed within three years from the date your original return was filed, or within two years from the time the tax was paid, whichever is later. If you filed your original return early, the

Marriage Vows Exchanged In New Holland Church

MRS. NED MILLARD FRIECE

Miss Elaine Francis Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arthur of Ashland, Ky., and Mr. Ned Millard Friece, son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Friece of New Holland, exchanged wedding vows April 30th in New Holland United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Frank A. White officiated the double ring ceremony before an altar adorned with two large trees of orange gladioli, snapdragons, snow drifts and orange lilies with a background of candelabra. Mrs. Aileen Dye, organist, of Vanceburg, Ky., presented a prelude of nuptial selections and accompanied Miss Judy McEldowney, also of Vanceburg, in two solos.

lustrous satin coordinated with fitted miramist. The long fitted miramist sleeves ended in a ruffle over the wrist and her bouffant illusion veil fell in tiers to elbow length. She carried a semi-cascade arrangement of yellow snapdragons, orange lilies and stephanotis with polished ivy leaves.

Miss Peggy Coxen of Long Island, N. Y., served as maid of honor. Miss Anne Levi of Georgetown, Ky., was bridesmaid and Miss Kimberly Arthur, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. The attendants were attired alike in floor length gowns of multi-orange and gold print with empire waists and short puffed sleeves. Their headpieces were of gold bows and they carried semi-colonial bouquets of gold croton leaves and lilies.

Steve Lewis, performed the duties of best man for his cousin. Ushers were Mr. Rick Stinson and Mr. David Orihood of New Holland, Mr. Randy Knisley of Lancaster, Mr. Tom Randall of Columbus and Mr. Ronald Schaeffer of Clarksburg. Mrs. Arthur selected a pink polyester coat and dress ensemble and matching accessories. Mrs. Friece was attired in a mint green crepe dress and coat ensemble with matching accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of cymbidium orchids.

A reception in the church social room followed the ceremony. The bride's table held a four tiered wedding cake topped with yellow and orange daisies and encircled with orange and yellow daisies and foliage. Candelabra were placed at each end of the table.

Hostesses were Mrs. David Orihood of New Holland, Mrs. James Nigh of Lancaster, Mrs. Robert Lewis, aunt of the groom, New Holland; Mrs. Gary Buskirk of Columbus, Mrs. Leland Terwillinger, aunt of the bride, Manchester, Mich., presided at the guest book. The bride wore a peach dress and coat ensemble with beige and black patent accessories as the couple left for a wedding trip. They will reside at Valhalla Tor Towers in Newport, Ky.

Couple Plans July Wedding

MARY K. ARNOLD

Mr. and Mrs. Noah C. Arnold, 631 Elm Ave., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Mary Katherine, to Mr. Stephen E. Stonerock, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Stonerock, 208 1/2 N. Scioto St.

Miss Arnold is a graduate of Circleville High School. Her fiancé, also a graduate of Circleville High School, is employed as a salesman for Dean's Potato Chip Company.

The wedding will be an event of July 10.

Marriage Plans Are Revealed

BARBARA MCCAULEY

The Second Baptist Church will be the setting for the open church wedding of Miss Barbara McCauley and Mr. Paul MaBra on June 26th.

Miss McCauley who resides at 213 1/2 W. Ohio St., is employed by the Circleville General Electric Plant. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Voris McCauley of Camden, Tenn., where she graduated from Camden Central High School.

Mr. MaBra, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lawrence MaBra of Jeffersonville, graduated from Miami Trace High School. He is employed by International Harvester Co. in Springfield, Brevard, N. C.

Personals

M. Sgt. Lee Smith Jr. and family of Eilson AFB, Alaska, have been visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee A. Smith Sr., 1116 S. Court St.

Sgt. Smith who is retiring after serving 20 years with the Air Force has accepted a managerial position with the McDonald Corp. in Montgomery, Ala. They will reside in Montgomery following a visit with Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Searcy of Brevard, N. C.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS' "60 Minutes" wound up its season of excellent programs Tuesday night with a brief and somewhat alarming look at the operation of private pension funds.

Mike Wallace quoted a recent Senate study which found that some 10 million persons may never receive money from pension funds into which they have put money. The principal reason, he said, is that pension "credits" are lost when an employee changes jobs. He must start making new credits with his new job.

An estimated $130 billion is tied up in private pension funds and more than 30,000 of them are on file with the government. Many are handled well, but some are grossly mismanaged, by unions and by corporations, Wallace said. When a large manufacturer of automobiles went out of business five years ago, many younger employees received nothing from the fund.

Few workers, Wallace said, bother to find out what their pension plan provides.

The segment concluded with a description by Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., of his proposed legislation which would set standards of fund management, administered by a commission; permit a worker to receive some benefits after five years with one company, and establish a procedure by which an individual could carry his pension credits from one job to another.

Another portion of the program covered the current immigration, at a rate of about 25,000 people a year, from the United States to Canada.

The immigrants are middle-class families moving north to escape crowded cities and schools, noise, pollution, violence and high taxes. Those interviewed talked of Canada's "easier pace," "quality of life," lack of racial discrimination and business opportunities.

Morley Safer, doing the commentary, is a Canadian who said he came to the United States in the days when it was believed that "the American dream" was to be realized south of the border.

Next season the program will be weekly Sunday feature.

The television pattern of leading men in action series always being bachelors is beginning to change. Henry Fonda recently arrived on ABC as a policeman with a wife—played by Janet Blair—and three kids. The show is split between cops and robbers and domestic crises.

Bob Conrad, in two TV films about the character he will play in "The D. A." next season, had a wife. Rock Hudson will split title roles with Susan St. James in his forthcoming "McMillan and Wife."

Power Plan Aired By AEC

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission has termed technically feasible a new concept for generating electricity by using nuclear explosives to blast trapped heat from the bowels of the earth.

A series of atomic blasts would release the heat which would convert piped-in water to steam. The steam would fuel a turbine generator to produce electricity in an above-ground power plant.

The commission envisioned such futuristic power plants in disclosing results Tuesday of a feasibility study prepared by AEC and industrial scientists.

Although technologically within reach, the report said, it is too early to say whether the "hot-rocks" idea would be economically competitive with other methods of generating electricity.

But various versions of the basic concept look promising on that score, the scientists said, especially one in which the surface power plant could be moved to a safe distance away from the explosion and then returned to business after the subterranean "fires" were loosed again.

Marriage Vows Exchanged In New Holland Church

MRS. NED MILLARD FRIECE

Miss Elaine Francis Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arthur of Ashland, Ky., and Mr. Ned Millard Friece, son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Friece of New Holland, exchanged wedding vows April 30th in New Holland United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Frank A. White officiated the double ring ceremony before an altar adorned with two large trees of orange gladioli, snapdragons, snow drifts and orange lilies with a background of candelabra. Mrs. Aileen Dye, organist, of Vanceburg, Ky., presented a prelude of nuptial selections and accompanied Miss Judy McEldowney, also of Vanceburg, in two solos.

lustre satin coordinated with skinner miramist. The long fitted miramist sleeves ended in a ruffle over the wrist and her bouffant illusion veil fell in tiers to elbow length. She carried a semi-cascade arrangement of yellow snapdragons, orange lilies and stephanotis with polished ivy leaves.

Miss Peggy Coxenza of Long Island, N. Y., served as maid of honor. Miss Anne Levi of Georgetown, Ky., was bridesmaid and Miss Kimberly Arthur, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. The attendants were attired alike in floor length gowns of multi-orange and gold print with empire waists and short puffed sleeves. Their headpieces were of gold bows and they carried semi-colonial bouquets of gold croton leaves and lilies.

Steve Lewis, performed the duties of best man for his cousin. Ushers were Mr. Rick Stinson and Mr. David Orihood of New Holland. Mr. Randy Knisley of Lancaster, Mr. Tom Randall of Columbus and Mr. Ronald Schaeffer of Clarksburg.

Mrs. Arthur selected a pink polyester coat and dress ensemble and matching accessories. Mrs. Friece was attired in a mint green crepe dress and coat ensemble with matching accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of cymbidium orchids.

A reception in the church social room followed the ceremony. The bride's table held a four tiered wedding cake topped with yellow and orange daisies and encircled with orange and yellow daisies and foliage. Candelabra were placed at each end of the table.

Hostesses were Mrs. David Orihood of New Holland, Mrs. James Nigh of Lancaster, Mrs. Robert Lewis, aunt of the groom, New Holland; Mrs. Gary Buskirk of Columbus, Mrs. Leland Terwillinger, aunt of the bride, Manchester, Mich., presided at the guest book.

The bride wore a peach dress and coat ensemble with beige and black patent accessories as the couple left for a wedding trip. They will reside at Valhalla Tor Towers in Newport, Ky.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kunke, Mr. and Mrs. Stu Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Lehman Stiles, Lee and Patricia, Mary and Bill Gates.

Mrs. Gates and Jim left Monday for Darmstadt, Germany to visit Mrs. Gates' daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Snyder.

By CYNTHIA LOWERY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS' "60 Minutes" wound up its season of excellent programs Tuesday night with a brief and somewhat alarming look at the operation of private pension funds.

Mike Wallace quoted a recent Senate study which found that some 10 million persons may never receive money from pension funds into which they have put money. The principal reason, he said, is that pension "credits" are lost when an employee changes jobs. He must start making new credits with his new job.

An estimated $130 billion is tied up in private pension funds and more than 30,000 of them are on file with the government. Many are handled well, but some are grossly mismanaged, by unions and by corporations, Wallace said. When a large manufacturer of automobiles went out of business five years ago, many younger employees received nothing from the fund.

Charges GOP Ignores Dem Welfare Program

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Welfare Director John Hansen charged Monday that House Republicans have "ignored what Gov. John Gilligan proposed in the way of welfare reform and substituted nothing in its place."

Hansen said in a Cleveland speech that welfare provisions of the budget passed by the Republican-dominated House are "just a repeat of the empty promises of the last eight years."

He placed part of the blame on "a number of Ohio mayors" who pressed the legislature for more direct aid to cities.

Saxbe, Taft Split On Military Pay Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Republicans William Saxbe and Robert Taft Jr. cast opposing votes as the Senate approved 51-24 Tuesday an amendment to raise military pay by about $2.7 billion a year.

Saxbe voted against the amendment and Taft voted for it.

commission to study the efficiency of the state government and to examine the question of the city's becoming the 51st state. At the same time, the state legislature has passed a bill creating a commission to probe the city's operation.

Creation of both commissions Tuesday night climaxed weeks of acrimony between the city and state governments over the city's request for new revenues and appeared to support a growing campaign among some city leaders for statehood.

Lindsay said the announcement of a commission "to inquire into the effectiveness and efficiency of the state government" came "after nearly two months of preliminary preparations."

In Albany, the Republican leadership surprised the legislators by suddenly taking up the bill providing for a state investigation of the city.

"We're worried about a city," said Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges of Niagara Falls. "We're watching the gradual deterioration of what was once the greatest city in the world."

With Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in command of Republican majorities in the state Senate and Assembly, the measure was passed over the protests of city Democrats.

Brydges said the state commission could consider the possibility of replacing the strong mayor form of government with a city manager system and dividing the city into five separate governments along borough lines.

Democrats said the $250,000 appropriation for the commission would be inadequate for it to do any serious work, and Sen. Seymour Thaler of Queens called the action an attempt to "intimidate" Lindsay.

Lindsay and Rockefeller, strong political rivals, have engaged in name-calling recently over the size of the state and city budgets. The mayor accused Rockefeller of short-changing the cities and the poor, and the governor has called Lindsay an "inept" administrator.

The legislature also voted Tuesday night, after weeks of wrangling, to allow the city to impose $525 million in new taxes. The package was enlarged with a state guarantee of $100 million more in federal aid to the city.

The compromise package includes increased income taxes for city residents and commuters. Lindsay had asked for $896 million in new taxes to balance his $9.1 billion proposed city budget.

Viet Woman Tells Tale Of Terror

By LYNN NEWLAND
Associated Press Writer
BONG SON, Vietnam (AP) — Mrs. Do Thi Thanh sat on the step of her mud-brick home and told of terror and fear felt by the seaside village of Lo Dieu when the Americans came in 1968.

Mrs. Thanh, 35, looked apprehensively at the American reporter sitting near her but talked after several men convinced her and other assembled villagers that they were not going to be hurt.

Mrs. Thanh was interviewed at this district town in central Vietnam, about six miles west of the coastal fishing hamlet of Lo Dieu, where she and the others lived until a month ago.

"I remember three years ago when the Americans came many times by sea and helicopters. They shot anything—any people they saw anywhere in the hamlet, on the beach, or outside the hamlet, in the fields," Mrs. Thanh said.

She spoke in a low voice, her child feeding at her breast. "Whenever the Americans came, we hid in our houses. They would shoot anyone they found outside. One time, after the Americans had come by sea and then left, I went down to the sea and saw 10 bodies floating in the water."

The U.S. Army says it is investigating charges that American troops killed 24 to 40 Vietnamese women and children on a beach near Bong Son in September 1968. The charges were made by William L. Marhoun, 30, according to a story in the Chicago Sun-Times. Marhoun, a former specialist 5 in the Army from St. Paul, Minn., said the civilians were slaughtered in "two minutes of pandemonium and shooting" by a company of the 2nd Battalion, 503rd Infantry, 173rd Airborne Brigade.

PLAY THE "GOOD NUTRITION" GAME

Remember the rules? Every day serve everyone in your family foods from these 4 groups:

MEAT — 2 or more servings. Fish, poultry, eggs, cheese-peanut butter, dried beans and peas count, too.

MILK — 3 or 4 cups for children and teenagers; 2 or more for adults. Supplement with nonfat dry milk. It costs less than whole fresh milk. Use it in cooking, whip it for toppings. Don't forget to count the milk solids in mixes to which you add only water.

CEREALS & BREAD — 4 or more servings. Be sure these are whole grain or enriched. Enriched noodles, rice and macaroni also provide B Vitamins and iron.

VEGETABLES & FRUIT — 4 or more servings. Very important! Green leafy and bright yellow vegetables — fresh, frozen or canned — are vital to health. So are fruits and juices high in Vitamin C.

ADD MARGARINE or BUTTER, DESSERTS & SNACKS
What size should servings be?

3-4 ounces meat or cheese
2 eggs
1 tablespoon peanut butter
1 cup cereal
1 slice bread, 1 biscuit or muffin
1/2 cup cooked vegetables, fruit or juice

Fog-Clearing Method Found To Be Costly

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — Science has found a way to disperse flight-delaying fog at airports but the method is so costly it is feasible only for busy airports, a NASA official reported Tuesday.

The procedure involves heating the air above the runway through a combustion-blower system which burns 28 pounds of kerosene a second, William A. McGowan of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said in a paper delivered at an air transportation conference.

"This might be achieved at a cost of $1,000 to $2,000 an hour, possibly an acceptable value, especially at busy airports," McGowan said. "The problem is that estimates of the initial cost of equipment needed to release this amount of energy in the required manner range from three to six million dollars."

"Such a system, therefore, can only be considered seriously for use at large airports with high traffic density," he added.

He said scientific tests in the United States and France show that this heating method is effective in evaporating fog droplets and improving visibility for efficient airport traffic operations.

Professionals, such as physicians or psychologists, can generally assure patients that treatment of drug abuse problems will be kept confidential. Practically all enforcement agencies cooperate with this.

Coal Mining - - Dangerous Work, Good Money

EDITOR'S NOTE—The classic image of the coal miner is that of a man who lives on the edge of poverty. The facts, at the moment, don't square with that stereotype. The American miner now makes $34-$37 a day, and is seeking $50 a day when new contract talks open. Here is a report on the situation.

By CRAIG AMMERMAN
Associated Press Writer

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — "Coal mining" said the man lying in neck traction in a hospital bed here, "is not much different than any other job. The only difference is that the coal miner makes more money than most people."

Dz Kirk, a seven-year veteran of coal mining and a 35-year-old father and husband, is recovering in a Charleston hospital from a slate fall in an underground mine which damaged nerves in his neck and left side. It may be months before he can work again.

"Sure, coal mining is somewhat dangerous," Kirk said. "But where else can I make as good a living?"

Presently, there are 140,000 men working the nation's coal mines. About 100,000 of them, including Kirk, are working members of the United Mine Workers-UMW.

For most of them, the image of miners as a class of men who live in shacks and barely subsist is not true.

Union coal miners today make $34-$37 a day—when they work. This fall, when contract time rolls around, UMW President W. A. "Tony" Boyle says he will demand a $50-a-day wage for his men.

The poverty which has plagued the Appalachian coalfields for the past two decades was caused in the late 1940s when scores of men were thrown out of work by mechanization.

In 1948, there were 145,000 coal miners in West Virginia. Now there are 46,000, but the amount of coal being produced is virtually the same because of mechanization.

And for the first time in two decades, the demand for coal and for men to operate the million-dollar machines which dig it out of the ground is running ahead of the supply.

"The greatest need in the coal industry today is for the experienced miner," said Hazlett Cochran, vice president of Consolidation Coal Co.

"There were no miners trained in the interim between mechanization and now," he said. "Suddenly the industry finds itself in a surging market and most of the experienced miners are gone or retired."

To compensate, both the government and the coal companies are opening schools and launching public relations programs to attract new men to the mines.

"When I was growing up," Kirk said, "there were a lot of miners who were out of work because of mechanization. But they're not around anymore. They've either died or moved away."

Kirk, who works in an underground mine 30 miles south of Charleston, says his insurance has paid more than $38,000 in the last six years for eight operations he's had on his gall bladder, stomach and intestines.

Union officials and many of the miners themselves strongly defend the way they live.

"Coal miners have been middle-class citizens for years, but they have never received that recognition," says Leonard Pankovich, president of UMW District 31 in Fairmont, W. Va.

Kirk, who owns a seven-room home which is assessed at $12,000, says he makes "damn good living."

Decisions Are Due In Transfer Cases

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Decisions in the cases of eight Ohio Bureau of Employment transfers to other cities will be announced in a day or so by the State Personnel Board of Review. Three other cases still have not been decided, Chairman Earl Allison said. The employees claim the transfers were politically motivated. Bureau of Personnel Director Rafael Horowitz told the board he transfers were made to give employees better chances for advancement.

Amanda Students Attend Confab

Six students of the Junior Class of Amanda - Clearcreek High School were privileged to attend the 9th Annual "Project Honoring the Science Scholar," sponsored by The Agriculture Research and Development Center, Wooster, on May 28.

Sponsors making the trip possible were the Bent Bolt and Midwest Manufacturing Co., Amanda, and the Science Club of Amanda-Clearcreek High School.

Students selected to attend for their outstanding studies in science were Kathy Pine, Nancy Pontious and Rhonda Pursis, biology department, accompanied by their instructor Roger Canupp, and Carol Stoneburner, Pam Kougher and Della Clum of the chemistry area, with their instructor H. D. Murphy.

Dr. Hufnagel of Texas, the first heart surgeon to install artificial valves in the human heart, gave a presentation on research and development entitled, "The Evolution of Heart Surgery."

Those attending were issued certificates of award by the Science Education Assn. for outstanding achievement in the field of science.

Trotwood Levy Fails

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A proposed, $3.35 million bond issue to build a new junior high school was defeated by voters 1,850-1,483 in nearby Trotwood Tuesday. It was the sixth straight time the issue has lost.

Coal Mining - - Dangerous Work, Good Money

EDITOR'S NOTE—The classic image of the coal miner is that of a man who lives on the edge of poverty. The facts, at the moment, don't square with that stereotype. The American miner now makes $34-$37 a day, and is seeking $50 a day when new contract talks open. Here is a report on the situation.

By CRAIG AMMERMAN
Associated Press Writer

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — "Coal mining" said the man lying in neck traction in a hospital bed here, "is not much different than any other job. The only difference is that the coal miner makes more money than most people."

Dz Kirk, a seven-year veteran of coal mining and a 35-year-old father and husband, is recovering in a Charleston hospital from a slate fall in an underground mine which damaged nerves in his neck and left side. It may be months before he can work again.

"Sure, coal mining is somewhat dangerous," Kirk said. "But where else can I make as good a living?"

Presently, there are 140,000 men working the nation's coal mines. About 100,000 of them, including Kirk, are working members of the United Mine Workers-UMW.

For most of them, the image of miners as a class of men who live in shacks and barely subsist is not true.

Union coal miners today make $34-$37 a day—when they work. This fall, when contract time rolls around, UMW President W. A. "Tony" Boyle says he will demand a $50-a-day wage for his men.

The poverty which has plagued the Appalachian coalfields for the past two decades was caused in the late 1940s when scores of men were thrown out of work by mechanization.

In 1948, there were 146,000 coal miners in West Virginia. Now there are 46,000, but the amount of coal being produced is virtually the same because of mechanization.

And for the first time in two decades, the demand for coal and for men to operate the million-dollar machines which dig it out of the ground is running ahead of the supply.

"The greatest need in the coal industry today is for the experienced miner," said Hazlett Cochran, vice president of Consolidation Coal Co.

"There were no miners trained in the interim between mechanization and now," he said. "Suddenly the industry finds itself in a surging market and most of the experienced miners are gone or retired."

To compensate, both the government and the coal companies are opening schools and launching public relations programs to attract new men to the mines.

"When I was growing up," Kirk said, "there were a lot of miners who were out of work because of mechanization. But they're not around anymore. They've either died or moved away."

Kirk, who works in an underground mine 30 miles south of Charleston, says his insurance has paid more than $38,000 in the last six years for eight operations he's had on his gall bladder, stomach and intestines.

Union officials and many of the miners themselves strongly defend the way they live.

"Coal miners have been middle-class citizens for years, but they have never received that recognition," says Leonard Pankovich, president of UMW District 31 in Fairmont, W. Va.

Kirk, who owns a seven-room home which is assessed at $12,000, says he makes "damn good living."

OHIO CASH GRAIN

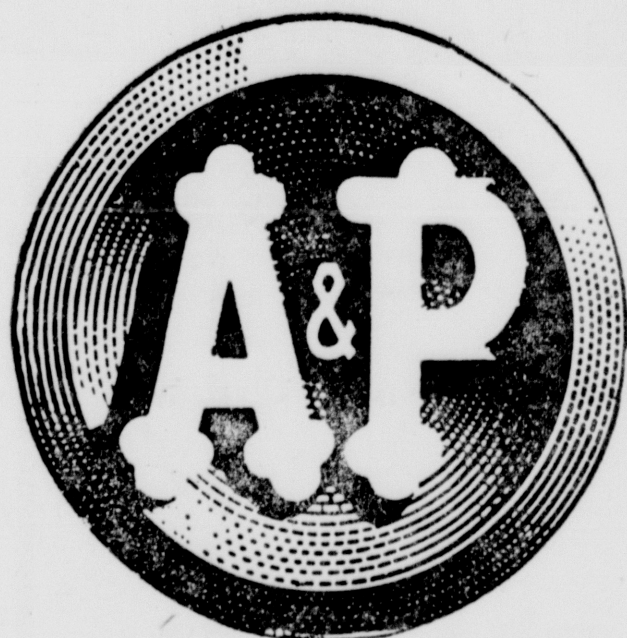

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Department of Agriculture cash grain prices: No 2 red wheat mostly unchanged, 1.41-1.55, mostly 1.41-1.43; No. 2 yellow corn unchanged to one higher, 1.37-1.47, mostly 1.37-1.41; No 2 oats mostly unchanged, 69-90; mostly 75-76; soybeans mostly two higher, 3.00-3.09, mostly 3.03-3.05.

Decisions Are Due In Transfer Cases

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Decisions in the cases of eight Ohio Bureau of Employment transfers to other cities will be announced in a day or so by the State Personnel Board of Review. Three other cases still have not been decided, Chairman Earl Allison said.

The employees claim the transfers were politically motivated. Bureau of Personnel Director Rafael Horowitz told the board he transfers were made to give employees better chances for advancement.

Dear Abby: Parents Ashamed Of Daughter

DEAR ABBY: What can you say to a 25-year-old daughter who has decided to live with her boy friend?

We brought Maria up as a moral Catholic. Her boy friend is of the same faith. He and his wife are legally separated. They have three children.

I have tried to tell Maria that if her friend really loved her he would get a divorce and marry her. We have other children, but Maria is the oldest and the apple of her father's eye. This affair is just about killing us. Until this happened Maria never gave us any trouble. We were so proud of her. She graduated from college with honors. Now she teaches retarded children.

We are so ashamed to face family and friends, we refuse all social events. I know Maria reads your column. May there is something you can say to her. I've tried everything I know. Thank you.

MARIA'S MOTHER: I have nothing to say to Maria because she didn't ask me for any advice, but I have something to say to you, Mother: You reared your daughter to the best of your ability, and from your letter I would say you did a commendable job. Maria is an adult now, and you are not responsible for her decisions. Those who know you and love you will not think less of you because of your daughter's actions. Hold your head high, and if anyone attempts to needle you, say: "She is our daughter and we love her, even though we disagree on many things."

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have six daughters. Never had any boys, but all the girls are nice. My wife gets along fine with everybody. She has never said a mean word about anybody, and she won't listen to gossip. I have a pretty good job, and our home is paid for. So what's my problem? Our eldest daughter got married and she had a baby boy. When our son-in-law called and told us we had a GRANDSON I had to help my wife sit down.

The baby can't even sit up yet and my wife has bought him shirts with "I love grandma" on the front. She also went to the jewelry store and had them put her grandson's picture on some earrings and a pin. Have you ever seen earrings, and a pin with a fat boy's picture on them? This may seem petty to you, but I wonder if she hasn't lost her mind?

GRANDPA: DEAR GRANDPA: After six girls, I don't blame her.

DEAR BBY: I have seen several letters in your column lately about an operation called the "vasectomy" which is done on a man in order to prevent him from getting a woman pregnant.

As a male, I object! If a woman doesn't want to get pregnant, let HER have an operation.

We men sacrifice enough, fighting wars and supporting kids and females, with out submitting to castration. Very truly yours,

ALL MAN (FOREVER): DEAR ALL MAN: It takes more of a "man" to submit to surgery than to ask his wife to do it.

DEAR ABBY: I am a domestic employee for a very prominent family and I realize that I must keep myself clean and tidy at all times, which I most certainly do.

I am a member of a church club and every Christmas the women swap gifts. Last Christmas I got a bottle of deodorant! The lady who gave it to me is a very nice person and I can't imagine why she would give me such a gift. I would never give a gift like that to anybody.

Will you please tell me what to do with the deodorant?

PERPLEXED: DEAR PERPLEXED: Use it.

Charge 3 Gls In Explosions

SEOUL (AP) — Three black American soldiers have been charged with attempted murder as a result of grenade attacks at Camp Humphrey, the U.S. 8th Army announced Tuesday.

An American and three Koreans were injured in the explosions May 22-23 at the camp 35 miles south of Seoul. Military sources said earlier the explosions were the outgrowth of racial tension at the camp.

The Army identified the three servicemen as Spec. 4 Michael G. Greenwood, of Long Branch, N.J., Spec. 4 Allen Green of Gadsden, S.C., and Pfc. Michael A. Gipson of De Funiak Springs, Fla.

All three were also charged with housebreaking and larceny in connection with the theft of 50 fragmentation grenades at the camp.

Green and Gipson also were charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

The spokesman said a pre-trial investigation was continuing. At its conclusion Col. John C. McWhorter Jr., commander of the 23rd General Support Group at the base, will decide whether the case will go to trial.

The arrests followed a joint probe by U.S. military police, South Korean army investigators and Korean police, an Army spokesman said.

Britain To End Sterling Reserve

LUXEMBOURG (AP) — Britain has cleared a major hurdle in her bid to enter the European Common Market by agreeing to gradually end the pound sterling's role as a world reserve currency.

Acceptance of the British pledge by the six Common Market countries was announced Monday night after another long negotiating session with Geoffrey Rippon, Britain's Common Market negotiator. "We are prepared to envisage an orderly and gradual rundown of official sterling balances after our accession," Rippon said.

Kennedy Speaks To Antiwar Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says U.S. troops are still fighting in Vietnam because President Nixon is saving "his last great card for peace" until just before the 1972 election.

"At last the ultimate and cynical reality of our policy is beginning to dawn on the American people," the Massachusetts Democrat said Monday night at a rally of 1,500 antiwar lawyers.

Drug dependence is a state of psychological or physical dependence, or both, while results from chronic, periodic or continuous use. May kinds of drug dependence exist; they all have specific problems associated with them.

The gathering capped the first day of a week in which lawyers, businessmen, church officials, civil rights organizers and union officials are pressuring Congress to cut off U.S. funds for the Vietnam war by Dec. 31.

Action Urged To Fight Famine

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Man is hurtling into a hunger crisis that science alone cannot stop, warns a food expert who sees salvation only in international cooperation.

"We are living in a dream world," said Dr. Goerg Borgstrom, professor of food science, nutrition and geography at Michigan State University.

"The average person stands in awe of technology," he said in an interview. "People forget about reality. They don't listen to what they don't want to hear."

The reality is, he said, that earth's resources are dwindling rapidly and no scientific track-ery can meet the food demands of an ever-spiraling population. Borgstrom, a 59-year-old native of Sweden who became a U.S. citizen in 1960, has written widely on world food problems.

Unless nations get together and plan the use of remaining resources, Borgstrom foresees a future of famine.

Earth's present population is some 3.7 billion. This is expected to leap to 7 billion by the year 2,000.

He says it will take 30 million to 40 million acres of new farmland each year "just to keep the world's people at their current malnourished level."

To improve nutrition, he says, we will need a doubling of food production by 1980 and a quadrupling by 2000.

By his calculations, two-thirds of the population eats inadequately. He lists the fortunate few as most inhabitants of North America; Europe including Scandinavia; Russia; Australia; New Zealand; and parts of Argentina.

Borgstrom, who speaks with the accents of his native land, proposes concentration on international food planning, population control and reuse of wastes.

A worldwide nutritional council, he claims, would do more for peace than disarmament talks.

Borgstrom suggests the nations of the world start by declaring the oceans "the common property of man" and coordinating development of the ocean's resources.

Within five years, Borgstrom says, such a test would give the nations an idea of what they might be able to do in a broader approach to the food crisis.

"The globe is finite," he adds. "Already one-third of the land area is tilled or in pasture. Geographers and soil experts agree that most good soil already is in use."

"We've been very resourceful," he says, "but we haven't paid much attention to what's happening to our resources."

City School Board Adopts Revised Salary Schedules

New salary schedules were adopted by the Circleville City Board of Education for non-certificated, teaching and extra-curricular employment.

All showed increases over last year's schedules. The new system will boost the present starting salary for a new teacher with a bachelor's degree to $6,300 or an additional $200 per year. The new wage scales will take effect Sept. 1.

Board members accepted with regret the resignation of a 19-year teaching employee. Fred Goeglein requested his release from his teaching duties at the high school and his post as director of the system's audio-visual director.

Goeglein intends to devote his time now to his outside business activities, but on request of Superintendent Fritz Jacobs, agreed to work two periods a day with the audio-visual department as coordinator. He will assist the newly-appointed AV director, John Lawhorn.

WITH the employment of Deborah Lee Ruehling, a recent graduate of Morehead State University, to fill an elementary position, the district lacks only four teachers to complete the entire faculty.

A new custodian, Freeman Lutz Jr., was employed to fill the vacancy which will exist when long-time employee Frank Davis retires this month.

Resignations were accepted from Thomas Kyle, school bus driver and George Fowler, a part-time custodian at the junior and senior high schools.

The Board approved a recommendation to offer a vocational home economics unit in the freshman level beginning next year.

Bids were received from two local firms for painting work to be done on the interior of the Junior High and Mound and Atwater Schools. The contract was awarded to Chester P. Hill for a total cost of $3,182. A bid of $100 submitted by Lewis Conrad for labor only to paint the metal building at the rear of the junior high was also given the board's okay.

Other summer repairs include blacktopping repairs and additional surfacing at the junior high building and Atwater School. The contract was granted to George W. VanCamp Co. for a total cost of $1,540.

FOUR rooms in the South Court Street building were approved for use this summer as the Head Start site with the agreement of Community Action coordinators.

Plans for summer school were announced. Nearly 300 students are expected in this year's summer enrollment in the elementary, junior high and high school area. Twenty-four teachers were employed to teach the remedial courses at the junior high building, South Court and Mound Street schools.

Present at last night's board meeting were President R. L. Brehmer Jr., Ruth Kraus, Dale DeLong, Tom Elsea and Forrest Brown.

Southern Border Dispute Heard In District Court

By MIKE DUFFY
Associated Press Writer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The final showdown in a centuries-old border dispute between Texas and Louisiana opens today, with rich oil and land and even part of the city of Port Arthur, Tex., hanging in the balance.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Robert Van Pelt of Nebraska, appointed by the U.S. Supreme Court to hear both sides, set today's hearing as the last chance for the two states to present their case before the high court rules in the matter.

The disputed territory is a 200-mile stretch of border formed by the meandering Sabine River and its lakes. Louisiana claims the whole river. Texas says the boundary is in midriver.

Rich oil deposits lie beneath the river bed and Pleasure Island, a recreational area now incorporated in Port Arthur, is also involved.

Both sides have assigned the state attorney general and a former governor to argue the case: for Louisiana, Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion, former Gov. Sam Jones and attorney Oliver Stockwell of Lake Charles; for Texas, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin and former Gov. Price Daniel.

The Sabine River has long been the scene of conflict. In 1806 Louisiana Gov. William C. C. Claiborne called out the militia to force invading Spaniards to retreat to the western bank.

War was averted only when both sides agreed to allow their governments to decide the boundary.

Texas has gone through three national governments since

Sugar Trade Being Eyed By Congress

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The diplomatically sticky U.S. sugar allotment program is up for renewal in the House this week with critics charging extension of the system benefits everyone but the American consumer.

Defenders say adding three more years to the 1948 Sugar Act will keep a healthy and competitive domestic sugar industry by fixing ample allotments for American producers while passing valuable quotas—worth about $40 a ton over world market prices—to friendly foreigners.

The law expires Dec. 31. Most members of the House Agriculture Committee, drafting changes amid widespread lobbying on behalf of foreign nations trying to share in the lucrative U.S. market, say the ultimate goal is assuring consumers plenty of reasonably priced sugar, a goal that is being met.

But opponents within the committee expect to fight when the measure is due to reach the House floor for action.

The committee approved the extension legislation last week 30 to 3. A prime opponent, Rep. John G. Dow, D-N.Y., said the sugar act gives producers, processors, manufacturers and importers an equitable share. But "the voice of the consumer is barely heard in the land of sugar."

Rep. Wiley Mayne, R-Iowa, another dissenter on the committee, charged the extension "will continue and aggravate a system which forces American consumers to pay high subsidies to foreign sugar producers under a quota system."

Dow is expected to strike the quota for South Africa, which would be maintained at 60,000 tons a year under the extension bill, because of that nation's apartheid racial system. He also may try to set a payment limit for domestic producers.

ACS Confab Scheduled In Oxford

The American Cancer Society Annual Staff Conference for executive directors will be held this year in Oxford on June 14, 15 and 16.

Mrs. Georgia Walker, director of the Pickaway County Unit is serving on the planning committee and she reports the theme chosen is "Motivation and Improvement."

A number of interesting sessions are planned with well known speakers donating their time to share their knowledge and experience with the more than 80 county unit heads who will be attending.

One such speaker is Dr. Jerome W. Yates, Clinical Cancer Research Internist from Roswell Park Memorial Institute in Buffalo, N.Y., who will tell of his work as a cancer researcher and some of the up-to-date findings and trends to date.

Dr. Harvey C. Hahn, who is presently one of the ten speakers on the nationally known Speakers' Bureau of the Department of Public Relations of General Motors will close the conference on Wednesday.

Since the local office will be closed for three days, Mrs. Walker advises anyone wishing loan items or other services to call the Service Chairman, George D. Horn at 474-6784 after 6 p.m.

Court Collects $13,797 During Month Of May

Fines, costs and bond forfeitures collected in Circleville Municipal Court during May totaled $13,797.29 according to the monthly report completed by Naomi Houghton, court clerk.

Of the money collected, $8,352.80 was disbursed to Circleville, $1,987.50 to Pickaway County, $3,246.75 to the state and $66.30 to the Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

There were 471 cases filed and 471 concluded during May. A total of $1,177 in fines and costs were suspended in 37 of the cases.

Fourteen new cases were filed in the civil division of the court and seven were concluded. The judge performed one marriage ceremony. Total court costs collected by the court in the civil division were $99.39.

Seventeen cases were filed in the small claims division and 27 were concluded. The court collected $42.82 in this division.

Judge Voids Rules Change In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A change in Cleveland's mayoral election rules which would have eliminated all independent candidates this year was ruled out Tuesday by a federal judge.

U.S. District Judge Thomas D. Lambros ruled that the Cuyahoga County Board of Elections must accept filing petitions from both independent and partisan mayoral candidates through Aug. 18.

Late board chairman Dan W. Duffy and John J. Carney, both Democrats, and Republican party cochairman Robert E. Hughes had voted over the objection of Republican cochairman Saul G. Stillman on April 12 to change the filing deadline for independent mayoral candidates from June 29 to Feb. 3.

They also moved back the partisan filing deadline from June 29 to Aug. 18.

Mayor Carl B. Stokes had been rumored at the time to be planning to seek a third term as an independent after his black-dominated 21st District Congressional Caucus bolted from the Democratic party. Stokes later announced he would not seek re-election.

It was believed that Hughes went along with the plan because of the possibility of a Republican running a poor third in a split vote involving the city's dominant Democratic element and solid black support for Stokes.

Joseph Cipollone, director of the board of elections, maintained that the board action was taken only because the charter was not being interpreted correctly and was not in accordance with Ohio law.

Lambros said the board erred in interpreting the city charter and state statutes.

"By its action, the board has deprived candidates of a vital civil right to which they are entitled under the U.S. Constitution," Lambros said. He held that the board strained its interpretation to the extent that a federal question was clearly present and court intervention was required.

Of the money collected, $8,352.80 was disbursed to Circleville, $1,987.50 to Pickaway County, $3,246.75 to the state and $66.30 to the Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

There were 471 cases filed and 471 concluded during May. A total of $1,177 in fines and costs were suspended in 37 of the cases.

Fourteen new cases were filed in the civil division of the court and seven were concluded. The judge performed one marriage ceremony. Total court costs collected by the court in the civil division were $99.39.

Seventeen cases were filed in the small claims division and 27 were concluded. The court collected $42.82 in this division.

Air Traffic To Triple In 10 Years

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — America's aviation industry faces a decade of growth, with passenger traffic expected to triple by 1981. To meet the challenge it must solve many problems, from noise and pollution to safety and air congestion.

For three days, many of the nation's leading aviation experts have been discussing the future of U.S. air transportation at a meeting here sponsored by the Federal Aviation Administration and the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

Most forecast that air traffic, slowed by an economic recession, will begin to pick up late this year and that the annual growth rate of domestic air transportation should return in a year or two to a normal 11-13 per cent. This is based on an anticipated upturn in the economy.

The aviation officials predict that more than 450 million passengers will be carried by U.S. domestic and U.S. international carriers in 1981, compared with 160 million in 1970. The number of commercial jets flown by U.S. airlines is expected to increase in that period from 1,900 to 3,200.

About 10 per cent of the 1981 fleet will consist of new-type planes—supersonic transports and short take off and landing STOL jets. Unless the United States revives the recently killed SST program, the supersonic craft will be Russian TU144s or British-French Concorde.

Release 5 On Bond In Trespassing Case

City School Board Adopts Revised Salary Schedules

New salary schedules were adopted by the Circleville City Board of Education for non-certificated, teaching and extra-curricular employment.

All showed increases over last year's schedules. The new system will boost the present starting salary for a new teacher with a bachelor's degree to $6,300 or an additional $300 per year. The new wage scales will take effect Sept. 1.

Board members accepted with regret the resignation of a 19-year teaching employee, Fred Goeglein requested his release from his teaching duties at the high school and his post as director of the system's audio-visual director.

Goeglein intends to devote his time now to his outside business activities, but on request of Superintendent Fritz Jacobs, agreed to work two periods a day with the audio-visual department as coordinator. He will assist the newly-appointed AV director, John Lawhorn.

WITH the employment of Deborah Lee Ruehling, a recent graduate of Morehead State University, to fill an elementary position, the district lacks only four teachers to complete the entire faculty.

A new custodian, Freeman Lutz Jr., was employed to fill the vacancy which will exist when long-time employee Frank Davis retires this month.

Resignations were accepted from Thomas Kyle, school bus driver and George Fowler, a part-time custodian at the junior and senior high schools.

The Board approved a recommendation to offer a vocational home economics unit in the freshman level beginning next year.

Bids were received from two local firms for painting work to be done on the interior of the Junior High and Mound and Atwater Schools. The contract was awarded to Chester P. Hill for a total cost of $3,182. A bid of $100 submitted by Lewis Conrad for labor only to paint the metal building at the rear of the junior high was also given the board's okay.

Other summer repairs include blacktopping repairs and additional surfacing at the junior high building and Atwater School. The contract was granted to George W. VanCamp Co. for a total cost of $1,540.

FOUR rooms in the South Court Street building were approved for use this summer as the Head Start site with the agreement of Community Action coordinators.

Plans for summer school were announced. Nearly 300 students are expected in this year's summer enrollment in the elementary, junior high and high school area. Twenty-four teachers were employed to teach the remedial courses at the junior high building, South Court and Mound Street schools.

Present at last night's board meeting were President R. L. Brehmer Jr., Ruth Kraus, Dale DeLong, Tom Elsea and Forrest Brown.

Southern Border Dispute Heard In District Court

By MIKE DUFFY
Associated Press Writer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The final showdown in a centuries-old border dispute between Texas and Louisiana opens today, with rich oil land and even part of the city of Port Arthur, Tex., hanging in the balance.

U.S. District Court Judge Robert Van Pelt of Nebraska, appointed by the U.S. Supreme Court to hear both sides, set today's hearing as the last chance for the two states to present their case before the high court rules in the matter.

The disputed territory is a 200-mile stretch of border formed by the meandering Sabine River and its lakes, Louisiana claims the whole river, Texas says the boundary is in midriver.

Rich oil deposits lie beneath the river bed and Pleasure Island, a recreational area now incorporated in Port Arthur, is also involved.

Both sides have assigned the state attorney general and a former governor to argue the case: for Louisiana, Atty. Gen. Jack Gremlion, former Gov. Sam Jones and attorney Oliver Stockwell of Lake Charles; for Texas, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin and former Gov. Price Daniel.

The Sabine River has long been the scene of conflict. In 1806 Louisiana Gov. William C. Claiborne called out the militia to force invading Spaniards to retreat to the western bank.

War was averted only when both sides agreed to allow their governments to decide the boundary.

Texas has gone through three national governments since then, and many treaties and documents have been signed. However, the matter remains unsettled. The Supreme Court will decide it based on the state's arguments and Van Pelt's recommendation.

Louisiana bases its claim on treaties signed by the American government with the Spanish in 1819, with Mexico in 1828 and with the Republic of Texas in 1838. All three treaties set the western shore of the river as the boundary.

Texas looks to the midriver border stipulated in the Louisiana statehood act of 1812 and legislation approved by Congress in 1848 extending Texas' eastern boundary to the middle of the Sabine.

Louisiana argues that the purpose of the 1848 act was merely to enable Texas to extend criminal jurisdiction and was not intended as a boundary change.

Sugar Trade Being Eyed By Congress

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The diplomatically sticky U.S. sugar allotment program is up for renewal in the House this week with critics charging extension of the system benefits everyone but the American consumer.

Defenders say adding three more years to the 1948 Sugar Act will keep a healthy and competitive domestic sugar industry for American producers while passing valuable quotas—worth about $40 a ton over world market prices—to friendly foreigners.

The law expires Dec. 31. Most members of the House Agriculture Committee, drafting changes amid widespread lobbying on behalf of foreign nations trying to share in the lucrative U.S. market, say the ultimate goal is assuring consumers plenty of reasonably priced sugar, a goal that is being met.

But opponents within the committee expect to fight when the measure is due to reach the House floor for action.

The committee approved the extension legislation last week 30 to 3. A prime opponent, Rep. John G. Dow, D-N.Y., said the sugar act gives producers, processors, manufacturers and importers an equitable share. But "the voice of the consumer is barely heard in the land of sugar."

Rep. Wiley Mayne, R-Iowa, another dissenter on the committee, charged the extension "will continue and aggravate a system which forces American consumers to pay high subsidies to foreign sugar producers under a quota system."

Dow is expected to strike the quota for South Africa, which would be maintained at 60,000 tons a year under the extension bill, because of that nation's apartheid racial system. He also may try to set a payment limit for domestic producers.

ACS Confab Scheduled In Oxford

The American Cancer Society Annual Staff Conference for executive directors will be held this year in Oxford on June 14, 15 and 16.

Mrs. Georgia Walker, director of the Pickaway County Unit is serving on the planning committee and she reports the theme chosen is "Motivation and Improvement".

A number of interesting sessions are planned with well known speakers donating their time to share their knowledge and experience with the more than 80 county unit heads who will be attending.

One such speaker is Dr. Jerome W. Yates, Clinical Cancer Research Internist from Roswell Park Memorial Institute in Buffalo, N.Y., who will tell of his work as a cancer researcher and some of the up-to-date findings and trends to date.

Dr. Harvey C. Hahn, who is presently one of the ten speakers on the nationally known Speakers' Bureau of the Department of Public Relations of General Motors will close the conference on Wednesday.

Since the local office will be closed for three days, Mrs. Walker advises anyone wishing loan items or other services to call the Service Chairman, George D. Horn at 474-6784 after 6 p.m.

Judge Voids Rules Change In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A change in Cleveland's mayoral election rules which would have eliminated all independent candidates this year was ruled out Tuesday by a federal judge.

U.S. District Judge Thomas D. Lambros ruled that the Cuyahoga County Board of Elections must accept filing petitions from both independent and partisan mayoral candidates through Aug. 18.

Late board chairman Dan W. Duffy and John J. Carney, both Democrats, and Republican party chairman Robert E. Hughes had voted over the objection of Republican co-chairman Saul G. Stillman on April 12 to change the filing deadline for independent mayoral candidates from June 29 to Feb. 3. They also moved back the partisan filing deadline from June 29 to Aug. 18.

Mayor Carl B. Stokes had been rumored at the time to be planning to seek a third term as an independent after his black-dominated 21st District Congressional Caucus bolted from the Democratic party. Stokes later announced he would not seek re-election.

It was believed that Hughes went along with the plan because of the possibility of a Republican running a poor third in a split vote involving the city's dominant Democratic element and solid black support for Stokes.

Joseph Cipollone, director of the board of elections, maintained that the board action was taken only because the charter was not being interpreted correctly and was not in accordance with Ohio law.

Lambros said the board erred in interpreting the city charter and state statutes.

"By its action, the board has deprived candidates of a vital civil right to which they are entitled under the U.S. Constitution," Lambros said. He held that the board strained its interpretation to the extent that a federal question was clearly present and court intervention was required.

The aviation officials predict that more than 450 million passengers will be carried by U.S. domestic and U.S. international carriers in 1981, compared with 160 million in 1970. The number of commercial jets flown by U.S. airlines is expected to increase in that period from 1,900 to 3,200.

About 10 per cent of the 1981 fleet will consist of new-type planes—supersonic transports and short take off and landing STOL jets. Unless the United States revives the recently killed SST program, the supersonic craft will be Russian TU144s or British-French Concorde.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tricia Nixon was reared in an atmosphere of private schools and Secret Service protection, a public man's child who is at once a campaign asset and a daughter to be shielded from the public.

The Tricia Nixon who marries Ed Cox on Saturday has known politics as a staple of life from the day she was born. She was reared in Washington, the mecca of politics, and she is being married in the White House, America's best-known address.

The daughter of Pat and Richard Nixon was a little girl who joined the church Scout troop, adored a tabby cat named Donna and was adamant about not parting with a big turtle skin pillaged from a Florida beach.

The Nixons tried to keep her out of the bright glare to the point of once refusing to subscribe to a major Washington newspaper. Its biting critical cartoons, they felt, were not fit for their two young daughters' eyes.

But for children such as Tricia and her sister Julie, there was no protection from worldly realities.

At six, Tricia stayed up to watch television as her father was nominated for vice president in Chicago. She named the family's black and white cocker spaniel "Checkers" and it became a household word in that 1952 campaign.

Her debut as a politician's daughter was made at the 1960 Republican convention when she was still in her teens.

She remembers "the saddest day of my life,"—the day her father conceded defeat to John F. Kennedy in that 1960 presidential race. President Nixon recalls that his then 14-year-old daughter cried uncontrollably.

But now Tricia is 25, a blue-eyed blonde with a delicate, fragile beauty. The years have molded her into a public personality with an overriding sense of privacy.

She is 5-foot-3, weighs only 95 pounds and gives a much younger appearance. She is reserved and speaks with the polite, soft voice of the finishing school.

But her father says "she's proved she has a mind of her own—a very strong personality—holds her own extremely well—but never starts a fight."

Admittedly reserved, Tricia managed in 2½ years in the White House to take part in a minimum of public duties and campaigning, keeping a very private life of her own.

She enjoyed some of it, however, such as a masked ball, entertaining Prince Charles and Princess Anne of England. And she's taken on such things as Potomac cruises for hospitalized servicemen and sporadically tutoring inner city children.

President Nixon's main wish for his older daughter after her White House wedding Saturday to Harvard law student Edward Cox is that she can live a life of her own, out of the "merciless glare of publicity."

She says she'd like to get a job, perhaps as a writer. The closest she's come to it was a summer stint as a receptionist in the office of then Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., after her junior year at Finch.

"It's difficult to hold a steady job when you're a president's daughter," she says.

Nixon often recalls how he wasn't on hand when Tricia was born Feb. 21, 1946, in Whittier, Calif. He was at a Republican luncheon in Los Angeles on his first congressional campaign.

"That's the story of her life," he notes.

Tricia went only briefly to public elementary school, Horace Mann here. Then it was a succession of expensive private schools: Sidwell Friends in Washington, Marlborough School for Girls in Los Angeles, Miss Chapin's and Finch College, near their Fifth Avenue Home in New York.

Area Businesses Invited To Join Grove City Fair

Circleville area businesses and groups are invited to participate in the 1971 Grove City Community Fair parade and float competition, Wednesday evening July 14. The competition will include both business and non-business floats.

The fair, southwestern Franklin County's largest festival, will be held July 14-17.

Persons interested in information concerning parade competition should write: Parade '71, Grove City Community Fair, P. O. Box 88, Grove City, Ohio 43123.

Find Atom 'Partons'

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Scientists working with a two-mile-long atom smasher suspect they have discovered new subatomic particles even tinier than protons or neutrons. They call the particles "partons."

The announcement was made Tuesday by a team of scientists at the Stanford Linear Accelerator Center.

Dr. Wolfgang K.H. Panofsky, director of the center, and Dr. Henry W. Kendall of Massachusetts Institute of Technology also reported the results in the June issue of Scientific American magazine.

It has been thought that protons and neutrons, which form the core of an atom's nucleus, could not be divided.

But bombardment of these particles by streams of electrons of up to 21 billion electron volts has suggested that both protons and neutrons have internal structural parts, called "partons," Panofsky said.

"Knowledge of the internal structures of the protons and neutrons may provide the key to understanding the strong force that holds the atomic nucleus together and endows the universe with its stability," he said.

U.S. Open Field Nearly Complete; 42 Qualify

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The 150-man field for the U.S. Open Golf Tournament was all but completed Tuesday as Denny Lyons and Jim Masserio in Pittsburgh, Pete Davidson in West Orange, N.J., Mike Felker in Laytonville, Md., and Bob Dickinson in Pinehurst, N.C., led the way.

Forty-two golfers qualified in Tuesday's second and final round with one spot remaining, to be decided in a sudden-death playoff Wednesday in Pinehurst.

after darkness halted play. Don Bies of Seattle, firing a solid nine-under-par 135 at the Atlanta Country Club, led Monday's 72 qualifiers. He also had the best round of any pro or amateur qualifier as 141 was the best anyone could attain Tuesday.

The rest of the field will consist of 35 of the game's top names, all exempt from qualifying for the June 17-20 tourney at the Merion Golf Club, Admore, Pa. They include the Open champions of the past five years—

Billy Casper, Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino, Orville Moody and defending titlist Tony Jacklin of Britain, the PGA champs in that span—Al Geiberger, Don January, Julius Boros, Ray Floyd and Dave Stockton, and 1970 U.S. Amateur champion Lanny Wadkins Jr.

Lyons, a pro from Niagara Falls, N.Y., and Masserio, an amateur from Duquesne, Pa., first one-under par 141s to lead the seven qualifiers at the Pittsburgh Field Club. Touring pro Bobby Nichols was third at 143.

Davidson, of Rochester, N.Y., scored his 141 on the par 70 Montclair Golf Club in West Orange as five of the 13 qualifiers tied for second at 143.

Felker, of Newport News, Va., also at 141, breezed in three strokes ahead of runner-up amateur Mike Nesbitt of Bethesda, Md., at Laytonville's par-73 Montgomery Country Club.

Dickson, of Muskogee, Okla., had a two-stroke margin over three runners-up with his 141 on the par-71 Pinehurst Country Club course.

A 145 was the best anyone could manage at the par-71 Bellerive Country Club in St. Louis. Bob Goalby of Belleville, Ill., had it to top Larry Wood of Salem, Ill., by two strokes.

LE, Stoutsville Capture Tri County Games

Tri County baseball action Tuesday saw Logan Elm blank Stoutsville, 21-0, in a Pony League clash and Stoutsville down Washington, 8-2, in a Little League major tilt.

Steve Marshall went all the way for Logan Elm while his teammates backed him with a 19-hit assault on two Stoutsville moundsmen. Marshall gave up one hit, three walks and struck out 11 hitters.

Scott Pontius had four singles for Logan Elm. Mark Justus blasted two homers and a single and Phil Manson rapped a double and two one baggers in the winning effort.

Davis smashed a double to account for Stoutsville's lone hit.

LOGAN Elm will be at Amanda Tuesday.

Dave Marshall and Hartley combined on a one-hitter to give Stoutsville a victory over Washington. Marshall fanned nine Washington hitters in the process, while Hartley whiffed five.

Calton rapped the long Washington hit off Marshall.

Bowman and Payne shared mound duties for the losers. Payne fanned five and Bowman struck out four Stoutsville swimmers.

Stoutsville's attack was led by Cassill with a triple and Cave and Hartley each with a double.

McDowell Fans 11; Downs Chisox

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
It's not quite the same perhaps as the breakfast of champions, but lunching with Gomer Hodge has its advantages as far as Sam McDowell is concerned.

McDowell, Cleveland's fireballing left-hander, had his ceremonial pre-game victory meal with teammate Hodge Tuesday and then feasted on the Chicago White Sox to the tune of 5-3 with 11 strikeouts.

"Give the credit to Gomer," insisted McDowell, who has had either breakfast or lunch with Hodge before each of his five previous triumphs this season.

Elsewhere in the American League, Boston snapped Oakland's five-game winning streak
5-1, Baltimore made it six in a row with a 8-2 rout of Minnesota, Detroit trimmed Milwaukee 8-3, Kansas City beat Washington 4-2 and the New York Yankees blanked California 3-0.

National League scores: Montreal 10, San Francisco 3; Los Angeles 4, Philadelphia 2; Atlanta 8, St. Louis 7 in 10 innings; New York Mets 6, San Diego 4; Chicago Cubs 1, Pittsburgh 0 in 12 innings and Houston, 2 Cincinnati 0.

McDowell checked the White Sox on six hits and three walks and raised his record over .500 for the first time this season at 6-5. The 11 strikeouts marked the 72nd time he has been in double figures, increasing his AL record. Sandy Koufax of the Brooklyn-Los Angeles Dodgers did it 97 times, the major league mark.

Both McDowell and batter-mate Ray Fosse were satisfied with the southpaw's performance.

"Tonight I was a pitcher," said McDowell. "Before I was only a thrower. I had more confidence in everything I threw, more confidence than I've had all season. And, for a change, I didn't have to rely on only one pitch."

Roy Foster's three-run homer in the second inning was the big blow for the Indians.
McDowell allowed a two-run bloop single to Rick Reichardt in the third and Tom Egan homered in the ninth.

Ray Culp's three-hitter—he also struck out 11—helped Boston keep pace with Baltimore in the AL East. Duane Josephson socked a two-run homer for the Red Sox, who trail the Orioles by 1 1/2 games.

Culp didn't allow a baserunner until Mike Epstein singled to lead off the fifth. Dave Duncan's eighth-inning homer spoiled his shutout bid. The Red Sox had lost seven of their nine previous games.

The Orioles shelled Minnesota's Bert Blyleven with five runs in the second inning, two on Mark Belanger's double and two more on Don Buford's eighth home run. Belanger and Dave Johnson each had three hits in support of Pat Dobson's strong pitching.

Mickey Stanley's bases-loaded triple was the key blow as the Tigers whipped the Brewers for Mickey Lolich's ninth victory. Dalton Jones hit a two-run homer in the eighth. Lolich was bothered mostly by rookie Ron Theobald, who belted his first major league homer as the game's first batter and later drove in a run with a sacrifice fly.

Lefty Paul Splittorff, making his first start after being recalled from the minors, hurled 7 2/3 strong innings and gave up only one run as the Royals downed Washington for their eighth win in 10 games and shaved Oakland's lead in the AL West to seven games.

Ed Kirkpatrick smacked a two-run double as the Royals scored three times off Casey Cox in the third inning. Tom McCraw homered for the Senators off Ted Abernathy in the ninth.

Mel Stottlemyre throttled California on six hits and Danny Cater rammed two singles, a double and his first homer in the Yankees' victory. Stott-lemyre, who also delivered a run-scoring single, has a lifetime 143 mark against the Angels, including five shutouts.

Coca Cola, Bingman Drugs Win Major Division Games

Coca-Cola and Bingman's were victors in the Little League Major tilts Tuesday.

Biff Bumgarner was the winning Coke pitcher giving up one hit, walking none, and striking out 13.

Bumgarner, Gary Combs,
Perry Oberly, and Mark Linton
each had doubles for Coke.

Pitching for Elks were Gary Wolford and Brad Allison.

JOE Mogan had a single and the only hit of the night for the Elks.

Bill Mogan smashed a home run in the bottom of the sixth to give Bingman's Drugs a 7-6 decision over the Herald Hawks.

Scott Willoughby hurled the win for the Druggists, nine allowing five hits, five walks and fanning nine.

Brian Fath was on the hill for the Hawks. He gave up five singles, walked six and struckout 14 batters.

Jeff Funk aided the winning cause with two triples while Byron Edgington ripped a three bagger and Fath rapped a double for the Hawks.

Hill's Implement and Block's were on top in Tuesday's Mosquito League games.

Block's ran over FOPA 27-4 with Brad Allen pitching for the winners. Allen walked two, struck out 16, and allowed eight hits.

Herb Gaines pitched for FOPA striking out nine, walking 25, and throwing 14 hits.

Hitting for Block's were Mike Contino with a triple and a double, Rick Baranick, Scott Brady and Mike Harrison each hit doubles.

Gaines and Pat Cuellar hit doubles for FOPA.

Hill's Implement won over Circleville Manufacturing, 5-1.

Larry Pennington was the winning pitcher and was assisted by Billy Archer. Pennington gave up no hits, struck out six and walked four.

Both Archer and Pennington smashed triples for Implement.

Brad Willoughby hit two singles for Circleville.

Randy Hanigan was the losing pitcher. He was backed up by Willoughby. Hanigan walked, four, struck out 11, and gave up three hits.

OSU Expected To Lead
Grid Attendance Race

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The college football madness that hits here every fall won't subside in 1971. Ohio State University Ticket Director Bob Ries predicted Tuesday.

Ries, in fact, predicted the defending Big Ten Champions would lead national college attendance for the 14th consecutive year and 26th in the last 28 seasons this fall.

In announcing ticket distribution plans, Ries did not think the loss of 15 starting seniors who led the Buckeyes to a 27-2 record in the last three years would hurt attendance at Ohio Stadium.

J.S. Open Field Nearly Complete; 42 Qualify

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The 150-man field for the U.S. Open Golf Tournament was all but completed Tuesday as Denny Lyons and Jim Masserio in Pittsburgh, Pete Davidson in West Orange, N.J., Mike Felker in Laytonville, Md., and Bob Dickson in Pinehurst, N.C., led the way.

Forty-two golfers qualified in Tuesday's second and final round with one spot remaining, to be decided in a sudden-death playoff Wednesday in Pinehurst.

after darkness halted play.

Don Bies of Seattle, firing a solid nine-under-par 135 at the Atlanta Country Club, led Monday's 72 qualifiers. He also had the best round of any pro or amateur qualifier as 141 was the best anyone could attain Tuesday.

The rest of the field will consist of 35 of the game's top names, all exempt from qualifying for the June 17-20 tourney at the Merion Golf Club, Admore, Pa.

They include the Open champions of the past five years—

Billy Casper, Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino, Orville Moody and defending titlist Tony Jacklin of Britain, the PGA champs in that span—Al Geiberger, Don January, Julius Boros, Ray Floyd and Dave Stockton, and 1970 U.S. Amateur champion Lanny Wadkins Jr.

Lyons, a pro from Niagara Falls, N.Y., and Masserio, an amateur from Duquesne, Pa., first one-under-par 141s to lead the seven qualifiers at the Pittsburgh Field Club. Touring pro Bobby Nichols was third at 143.

Davidson, of Rochester, N.Y., scored his 141 on the par 70 Montclair Golf Club in West Orange as five of the 13 qualifiers tied for second at 143.

Felker, of Newport News, Va., also at 141, breezed in three strokes ahead of runner-up amateur Mike Nesbitt of Bethesda, Md., at Laytonville's par-73 Montgomery Country Club.

Dickson, of Muskogee, Okla., had a two-stroke margin over three runners-up with his 141 on the par-71 Pinehurst Country Club course.

A 145 was the best anyone could manage at the par-71 Bellevue Country Club in St. Louis. Bob Goalby of Bellevue, Ill., had it to top Larry Wood of Salem, Ill., by two strokes.

LE, Stoutsville Capture Tri County Games

Tri County baseball action Tuesday saw Logan Elm blank Stoutsville, 21-0, in a Pony League clash and Stoutsville down Washington, 8-2, in a Little League major tilt.

Steve Marshall went all the way for Logan Elm while his teammates backed him with a 19-hit assault on two Stoutsville moundsmen. Marshall gave up one hit, three walks and struck out 11 batters.

Scott Pontius had four singles for Logan Elm. Mark Justus blasted two homers and a single and Phil Manson rapped a double and two one baggers in the winning effort.

Davis smashed a double to account for Stoutsville's lone hit.

LOGAN Elm will be at Amanda Tuesday.

Dave Marshall and Hartley combined on a one-hitter to give Stoutsville a victory over Washington. Marshall fanned nine Washington hitters in the process, while Hartley whiffed five.

Calton rapped the long Washington hit off Marshall.

Bowman and Payne shared mound duties for the losers. Payne fanned five and Bowman struck out four Stoutsville swingers.

Stoutsville's attack was led by Cassill with a triple and Cave and Hartley each with a double.

McDowell Fans 11; Downs Chisox

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's not quite the same perhaps as the breakfast of champions, but lunching with Gomer Hodge has its advantages as far as Sam McDowell is concerned.

McDowell, Cleveland's fireballing left-hander, had his ceremonial pre-game victory meal with teammate Hodge Tuesday and then feasted on the Chicago White Sox to the tune of 5-3 with 11 strikeouts.

"Give the credit to Gomer," insisted McDowell, who has had either breakfast or lunch with Hodge before each of his five previous triumphs this season.

Elsewhere in the American League, Boston snapped Oakland's five-game winning streak 5-1, Baltimore made it six in a row with a 8-2 rout of Minnesota, Detroit trimmed Milwaukee 8-3, Kansas City beat Washington 4-2 and the New York Yankees blanked California 3-0.

National League scores: Montreal 10, San Francisco 3; Los Angeles 4, Philadelphia 2; Atlanta 8, St. Louis 7 in 10 innings; New York Mets 6, San Diego 4; Chicago Cubs 1, Pittsburgh 0 in 12 innings and Houston, 2 Cincinnati 0.

McDowell checked the White Sox on six hits and three walks and raised his record over .500 for the first time this season at 6-5. The 11 strikeouts marked the 72nd time he has been in double figures, increasing his AL record. Sandy Koufax of the Brooklyn-Los Angeles Dodgers did it 97 times, the major league mark.

Both McDowell and batterymate Ray Fosse were satisfied with the southpaw's performance.

"Tonight I was a pitcher," said McDowell. "Before I was only a thrower. I had more confidence in everything I threw, more confidence than I've had all season. And, for a change, I didn't have to rely on only one pitch."

Roy Foster's three-run homer in the second inning was the big blow for the Indians. McDowell allowed a two-run bloop single to Rick Reichardt in the third and Tom Egan homered in the ninth.

Ray Culp's three-hitter—he also struck out 11—helped Boston keep pace with Baltimore in the AL East. Duane Josephson socked a two-run homer for the Red Sox, who trail the Orioles by 1 1/2 games.

Culp didn't allow a baserunner until Mike Epstein singled to lead off the fifth. Dave Duncan's eighth-inning homer spoiled his shutout bid. The Red Sox had lost seven of their nine previous games.

The Orioles shelled Minnesota's Bert Blyleven with five runs in the second inning, two on Mark Belanger's double and two more on Don Buford's eighth home run. Belanger and Dave Johnson each had three hits in support of Pat Dobson's strong pitching.

Mickey Stanley's bases-loaded triple was the key blow as the Tigers whipped the Brewers for Mickey Lolich's ninth victory. Dalton Jones hit a two-run homer in the eighth. Lolich was bothered mostly by rookie Ron Theobald, who belted his first major league homer as the game's first batter and later drove in a run with a sacrifice fly.

Lefty Paul Splittorff, making his first start after being recalled from the minors, hurled 7 2/3 strong innings and gave up only one run as the Royals downed Washington for their eighth win in 10 games and shaved Oakland's lead in the AL West to seven games.

Ed Kirkpatrick smacked a two-run double as the Royals scored three times off Casey Cox in the third inning. Tom McCraw homered for the Senators off Ted Abernathy in the ninth.

Mel Stottlemyre throttled California on six hits and Danny Cater rammed two singles, a double and his first homer in the Yankees' victory. Stottlemyre, who also delivered a run-scoring single, has a lifetime 14-3 mark against the Angels, including five shutouts.

Scioto Pace Won By Canadian John

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Canadian John took the lead after a quarter mile and won the featured eighth pace mile by 1 1/4 lengths at Scioto Downs Tuesday night, paying $5. $3.20 and $2.80.

Zig Time was second at $3.20 and $2.80, and Carmels Pride was third at $5.80.

The 1-8 quinella paid $562.80, the third largest quinella in the track's history.

Georgia Gold and Time Now combined for a $67.40 daily double.

Attendance was 8,302 and the handle $283,960.

Coca Cola, Bingman Drugs Win Major Division Games

Coca-Cola and Bingman's were victors in the Little League Major tilts Tuesday.

Biff Bumgarner was the winning Coke pitcher giving up one hit, walking none, and striking out 13.

Bumgarner, Gary Combs, Perry Oberly, and Mark Linton each had doubles for Coke.

Pitching for Elks were Gary Wolford and Brad Allison.

JOE Mogan had a single and the only hit of the night for the Elks.

Bill Mogan smashed a home run in the bottom of the sixth to give Bingman's Drugs a 7-6 decision over the Herald Hawks.

Scott Willoughby hurled the win for the Drugists, nine allowing five hits, five walks and fanning nine.

Brian Fath was on the hill for the Hawks. He gave up five safeties, walked six and struckout 14 batters.

Jeff Funk added the winning cause with two triples while Bryon Edgington ripped a three bagger and Fath rapped a double for the Hawks.

Hill's Block's Win Mosquito League Tilts

Hill's Implement and Block's were on top in Tuesday's Mosquito League games.

Block's ran over FOPA 27-4 with Brad Allen pitching for the winners. Allen walked two, struck out 16, and allowed eight hits.

Herb Gaines pitched for FOPA striking out nine, walking 25, and throwing 14 hits.

Hitting for Block's were Mike Contino with a triple and a double, Rick Baranick, Scott Brady and Mike Harrison each hit doubles.

Gaines and Pat Cuellar hit doubles for FOPA.

Hill's Implement won over Circleville Manufacturing, 5-4. Larry Pennington was the winning pitcher and was assisted by Billy Archer. Pennington gave up no hits, struck out six and walked four.

Both Archer and Pennington smashed triples for Implement.

Brad Willoughby hit two singles for Circleville.

Randy Hanigan was the losing pitcher. He was backed up by Willoughby. Hanigan walked, four, struck out 11, and gave up three hits.
